Asks Summit Gathering of Non-Red World

Sen. Johnson Wants To Include Leaders Of Free Nations

San Marcos, Texas.—The United States should invite leaders of "the many nations of the great non-communist world" to a summit meeting in the western hemisphere, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson says.

The senate majority leader outlined the idea to the graduating class of Southwest Texas State college yesterday. Johnson is a 1930 graduate of the school.

Johnson said such a conference would provide a striking contrast to the summit conference demanded by communist nations, who propose a meeting limited to the nations which led the fighting World War II.

Russian demands for a limited membership conference, he said, are part of a "grand design for world conquest."

Reds Want to Rule "The totalitarian leaders of the Kremlin look upon the summit as the throne of the world," Johnson said, "and it is their intent to wrestle with the nations of the west—one by one—for the right to wear the crown."

Johnson said the current foreign ministers conference in Geneva marks the end of a "long era of illusion in world affairs."

The illusion, he said is that "the fate of the world can be left in the hands of those nations which formed the victorious alliance of World War II."

"This country must demonstrate our belief that there is at the summit of mankind's hopes a kingdom of freedom in which all men and all nations may live at peace as equals," Johnson said.

Leaders of Western World Pay Tribute To Former Secretary

Hail Him for Valiant Fight To Stop Reds, Preserve Peace

London.—Millions of ordinary people around the world, remembering John Foster Dulles for his leadership in the fight against communism, today mourned his death.

Western statesmen recalled his emphasis on "face to face diplomacy" and grieved for the loss of a personal friend.

The Kremlin's leaders were silent, but communist organs revived old criticisms of the former American secretary of state.

Sir Winston Churchill called on the world to keep in mind the example Dulles set for those "who put their trust in freedom and fair dealing."

French President Charles de Gaulle messaged President Eisenhower he deeply felt the great loss Dulles' death causes, "for yourself, for your country and all men attached to freedom."

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told his fellow West Germans they had lost a friend who made their cause his own.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan remembered Dulles for his "signal force of character" which supported the highest ideals.

The official Soviet news agency reported the death in a 32-word dispatch without comment, and Moscow radio reported it as the fourteenth item in a 17-item roundup of domestic news.

Pope Offers Sympathy The East German news agency, ADN, said Dulles' name was "linked inseparably with the creation of a new war danger in Europe through the armament of Bonn." Broadcasts from other communist states maintained the same general tone.

Pope John XXIII said Dulles' death has caused great sorrow in the world. The ruler of the Roman Catholic church said that in this moment of sorrow he personally felt closer to Dulles' son, Avery, who left his father's Presbyterian faith and became a Jesuit priest.

The pope made his brief comment during a ceremony installing Santiago Cardinal Copello, formerly archbishop of Buenos Aires, as chancellor of the Roman church.

The pontiff said that he had been grieved by the news of the death of the "illustrious and great statesman" and that he had "expressed a thought to the Lord" for him.

In a telegram to President Eisenhower the pope said: "We extend to your excellency our sincere condolences."

Admits He Killed At Least 500 in Concentration Camp

Fulda, Germany.—A former sergeant of the Nazi SS Elite guard has admitted killing at least 500 concentration camp inmates in the last months of World War II, State Prosecutor Robert Hafke said today.

Gottlieb Muzikant, 55, an SS medical corps sergeant, said he either strangled his victims or gave them fatal injections of air or insecticide, Hafke told newspapermen.

He said that Muzikant made the admission when confronted in his jail cell with Dr. Claus Salomon, a Jewish inmate-doctor at the Meik concentration camp.

McDonald Accused of Misleading Public

New York.—The 12 largest steel companies in the nation today told David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, that "it's time for you to stop trying to mislead the public."

The companies charged that McDonald has been using "distortions of fact" in his weekly advertisements appealing for public support of the union in its contract negotiations with the industry.

An open letter to McDonald from the steel companies appeared in newspaper advertisements in various cities shortly before today's resumption of the negotiations here which had been in recess since Friday.

Reds in Iraq Get Warning From Kassem

Told Not to Try To Sabotage Efforts Of Government

Beirut, Lebanon.—Iraqi communists were warned yesterday against trying to sabotage the government of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

There was no doubt the warning, broadcast over the government-run radio Baghdad, came from Kassem.

It followed a special news conference Saturday in which Kassem reiterated his opposition to all political party activity in Iraq at the present time. Kassem summoned the newsmen shortly after a Baghdad communist party paper denounced the national democratic party for suspending its activities at Kassem's request.

Would End Friction The Iraqi communists have heeded Kassem by announcing an end to their month-long campaign for places in the Iraqi government. They are still urging that political parties be permitted to function, however.

The Baghdad broadcast asked the Reds "to continue not to obstruct the course of the revolution." It said Kassem is against political parties "because he knows that when a man says 'I am a communist or a national democrat or a socialist,' this will lead to friction, and friction will lead to casualties."

New London.—Thomas J. Whitty, 22, Milwaukee, was caught by ushers at 11:35 a. m. ## Most of Family Present As Ex-Secretary of State Succumbs in Army Hospital

Washington.—Top western diplomats who worked with John Foster Dulles in his unrelenting efforts to check Soviet expansion will fly here to pay final tribute to the former secretary of state.

Dulles, 71, a towering bulwark against communism as President Eisenhower's foreign policy pilot for six years, died of cancer yesterday at 7:49 a. m. Most of his family was at his bedside.

President Eisenhower deeply mourned his passing, and the free world mourned with him. Flags on U. S. government buildings throughout the world were ordered flown at half staff for the next three days, and Eisenhower canceled his formal schedule during that period.

An official funeral will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the big Washington National (Episcopal) cathedral. An honor guard of uniformed servicemen will keep a vigil beside the body as it rests at the cathedral during the 24 hours before the funeral.

Military Honors Full military honors accorded heroes and distinguished leaders will be given Dulles when he is buried in Arlington National cemetery across the Potomac river from Washington.

The Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva will recess Wednesday and Thursday as Sec. of State Christian A. Herter flies home for the funeral. With him will be the British and French foreign ministers, Selwyn Lloyd and Maurice Couve de Murville.

Japanese Foreign Minister Aikemiro Fijiyama will fly from Tokyo for the services. There was a possibility Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko might also attend. He expressed "deep condolences" to Herter when told of Dulles' death.

U. S. Officials Quit Inquiry On Lynching

Washington.—Federal authorities today announced their withdrawal from the Mack Charles Parker kidnapping case. The results of their long investigation will be turned over to the state of Mississippi.

Avg. Gen. William P. Rogers said the evidence obtained by the FBI after a masked mob snatched Parker from the Pearl river county jail at Poplarville, Miss., April 25 and killed him, failed to show any violation of federal statutes.

Give Data to Governor

In view of this, Rogers today directed the FBI to deliver to Mississippi's Gov. J. P. Coleman at Jackson "a summary of information relative to facts and evidence obtained during the FBI's investigation."

It was left up to Coleman to determine whether any prosecution under state law is possible.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover ordered his agents into the case shortly after the abduction. This was a 2-way investigation under the Lindbergh kidnapping law covering abductions in which state lines are crossed, and under the federal civil rights statutes relating to collusion on the part of local police authorities.

Urge $7.5 Billion For Loans Abroad

Democrats Want Economic Aid Extended Over 5 Years

Washington.—The administration raised obstacles (Mass) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) for the first time today to a Democratic proposal to put $7.5 billion of American loans over the next five years into economic development loan fund instead of annual appropriations.

C. Douglas Dillon, under secretary of state, left unanswered whether President Eisenhower would accept such a long range program—larger than he asked—if Congress included it in his $3,930,000,000 foreign aid bill.

Dillon told the senate foreign relations committee that if Congress included the loan provision, Eisenhower would defer final judgment until the bill reached him and make his decision "after full consideration of all the factors at the time."

Closed Session Dillon, acting as secretary of state in the absence overseas of Sec. Christian A. Herter, testified at a closed session. The committee is driving to conclude hearings on the foreign aid measure on which the house foreign affairs committee is expected to vote this week.

His statement made public by the committee, asked Congress to vote only the $700 million the president has asked for the development loan fund for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Dillon's testimony failed to provide the support sought by Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) and

3 Milwaukee Children Die in Burning Home

Milwaukee.—Three children left alone died in a fire early today, police said, while the parents were at a lounge where the father played with a jazz band.

David Lewis, 3, and his sisters, Harriet, 1, and Robin, 6 months, were pronounced dead at Milwaukee County Emergency hospital of suffocation.

The blaze broke out in the family's second-floor living quarters about 12:15 a. m. Police said the father, Cal, 27, was playing his trumpet in Harris Lounge at the time. They quoted the father as saying his wife, Bessie, 23, arrived about 11 p. m. with a woman friend. The couple did not spend the evening together.

Mrs. Dickinson said Windsor had some drunken belief that by holding the hostages he could force the sheriff to come out to the house.

The landlady said he held a grudge against the sheriff because of past evictions.

Held with Mrs. Dickinson and Mr. and Mrs. Les Dougherty was a man named Webb.

The Doughters were neighbors. Hassels came to the house about 8 a. m. today to ask for a key to another house owned by Mrs. Dickinson. He was to do some work at one of her houses.

Windsor shot him. The man sprawled on the lawn, and Windsor forced the Doughters to drag the body to the front porch.

Symington Leaves Good Impression

Looks Over State Political Field; Aids Wisconsin Democrats to Best Money Raising Rally in History

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Milwaukee—Another member of the Democratic party's stable of presidential aspirants looked over the Wisconsin political landscape during the weekend as Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri came to Milwaukee for a round of conferences and to perform as chief orator at the Wisconsin party's most successful money-raising rally in modern times.

Sen. Symington left the impression that he shares the views of many that he can win the 1960 presidential nomination if other candidates kill each other off in pre-convention struggles, but he made it plain he has no appetite for entering a Wisconsin popularity contest in the form of the spring presidential primary.

air force, called by Sen. Proxmire "the candidates' candidate", left a good impression. But he caused no great excitement. His speech was routine. Wisconsin Democrats found more satisfaction in the plain success of their big money-raising rally. Some 1,500 persons bought tickets to the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, and probably contributed a net of $20,000 to party coffers.

Wisconsin Republicans will hold a similar contributors' dinner here June 12-13, featuring Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona — and they will count themselves lucky to draw an audience of equal size.

The crowd was a happy and confident one, well sprinkled with the new faces that speak the Democrats' victory in the state elections last fall. Party functionaries who used to speak from the rostrum about hopes for victory now made quick speeches about what they are doing with their victory. One clue stood out during the round of oratory by the lesser party luminaries — the issue of "Republican obstructionism," as represented by Republican continuing control of the state senate and the fate of Gov. Nelson's program — will be the keynote of the state elections of next year.

Organized Labor
Lt. Gov. Philo Nash presided, and ran through a long schedule in snappy fashion. Nash asked representatives of various occupational groups to identify themselves, and disclosed the power of organized labor in party organization and party financing.

Gov. Nelson made a little joke about the equivocal status of Sen. Symington in the party's national politics of today.

"He is an unannounced possible candidate for an unannounced high office," said the governor. Nelson also pointedly referred to Symington as "one" of the greatest senators we have today, and then laughed: "That's a non-preferential statement about our preferential primary."

Strictly Neutral
(Gov. Nelson, as titular Wisconsin party leader, intends to remain strictly neutral in the impending contest for Wisconsin presidential convention delegates between Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota and Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts. Like many others of his party, Nelson is an admirer of Adlai Stevenson and believes there is a chance that the 2-time national standard-bearer can win an unprecedented third nomination.)

Democrats listened to a refrain of criticism of their party's performance since the nation-wide landslide victories of last fall.

Rep. Henry Reuss of Milwaukee warned that the party's leaders in control of the congress must begin putting into effect some of the platform promises of last fall "or our gains are going down the drain."

Symington observed bleakly: "Over the last six months, some of the shine has worn off of our victory of last November."

GOP 'Blindness'

Symington spent most of his prepared speech criticizing what he called the blindness of the Eisenhower Republican administration to the social needs of the country, and paid the traditional gesture toward the economic troubles of the Wisconsin dairy farmer.

He got more response after he concluded his prepared speech and challenged the administration to tell the country the truth about the menace of international communism and the power of Soviet Russia.

Teacher Held In Wife's Death

Former Socialite Found Dead in Chicago Apartment

Chicago—A high school gym teacher was held without charge for further questioning by police today in connection with the slaying of his former wife, a former socialite.

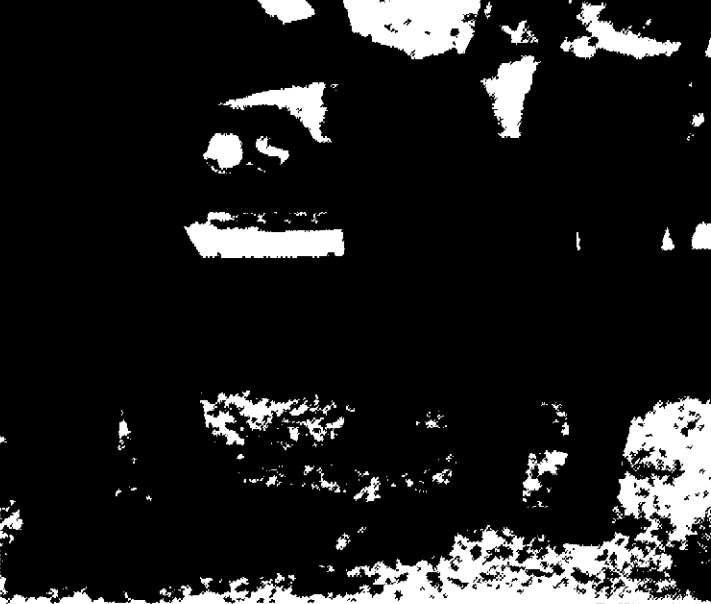

The body of Mrs. Susan Hansen, 24, the mother of three and daughter of a socially prominent physician, was found severely beaten in the bedroom of her southside home yesterday. Coroner Walter McCarron said her neck apparently was broken.

There were no apparent signs of a struggle, police said.

Found Body

Duncan Hansen, 28, told police April 20 after she charged him with cruelty. A physician yesterday morning shortly after telephoning the home ski, told police he had been learning from his eldest planning to marry Mrs. Hansen in about three weeks. The my won't wake up" and that Hansen were married in 1951.

"There's something wrong while both were students at Washington university, St. Louis."

A Stray Dog Lies beside a road in northwest St. Louis county not far from where 2½-year-old Mark D. Draper was attacked and killed by a pack of dogs. This dog was shot by a posse just off a highway.

Plan Investigation of Stray Dog Problem

Probe Grows Out of Fatal Attack on Little Boy by Pack in St. Louis

St. Louis — Several St. Louis county agencies plan investigations into the stray dog problem today as a result of Saturday's fatal attack on a little boy by a dog pack.

Mark Douglas Draper, 2½, the son of insurance man Douglas Mark Draper, was killed near his suburban Hazelwood home.

Shortly after the incident dozens of armed men searched the area for stray dogs, but police asked them to disperse, fearing an accident or the slaying of a harmless pet.

The boy's body was found by a neighbor, Mel Jones, in a field between the two homes.

Beat Them Off
The pack of eight to 10 dogs charged Jones but he beat them off with a length of iron pipe.

County Supervisor James H. McNary issued an order for an inquiry.

County Coroner Raymond Harris mentioned a possible there were some discrepancies in Hansen's story, but he did not elaborate. Police also checked the possibility a prowler did the slaying. A silver pitcher was missing from the house and a screen was removed from the rear porch.

The Hansens were divorced April 20 after she charged him with cruelty. A physician yesterday morning shortly after telephoning the home ski, told police he had been learning from his eldest planning to marry Mrs. Hansen in about three weeks. Stewardess Aids Pilot She Thought in Danger of Death

Prescott, Ariz. — A port air hostess with a yen for excitement found enough "to last me for a lifetime" when she rushed to the aid of a pilot she believed in danger of death.

Carolyn Hanna, 20, of Denver, grabbed a Frontier Airlines pilot and held on grimly when she thought he was being swept into the sky by suction from an open door.

But the pilot, Capt. George Graham, 36, of Phoenix, said, "I was not in danger at any time. Air from the outside rushed in and knocked me backward. The stewardess did a fine job of handling the passengers and there was no panic."

The 118-pound hostess, who said she's been hoping for some excitement since joining the airlines four months ago, found it more than a mile above this northern Arizona city.

It all started when a passenger door on the DC3 suddenly whipped open. Graham struggled vainly to close it. Several passengers on the Denver to Phoenix flight thought he was in the grip of suction.

"My heart stopped when I saw him so close to that door. I grabbed his arm," Miss Hanna said.

Both fell to the floor. She anchored herself by wrapping her other arm around the bottom part of a seat.

Graham, unable to close the door, then moved back to take the controls from co-pilot Wesley Morris and, despite "I was not in danger at any time. Air from the outside rushed in and knocked me backward. The stewardess did a fine job of handling the passengers and there was no panic."

Kennedy Plans Layoff From Campaign Pace

Thinks He May Be Running in Front Too Early

Washington — A vacation from campaigning will be Sen. John F. Kennedy's answer to signs he may be running in front too early in the 1960 Democratic presidential sweepstakes.

The Massachusetts senator has spoken at party rallies in nearly every section of the country. But he plans a 3-months layoff after he fills previous commitments which will keep him busy till early July.

Shoot Down
Kennedy already is beginning to be marked among the other likely contestants as the potential candidate they need to shoot down to clear the way for their own individual aspirations.

Though his associates are pleased with the results of various polls that show Kennedy among the leaders, some of them obviously believe the pace he is setting now may be too hot to hold for the more than a year before the convention meets.

Beyond that, Kennedy apparently feels that the voters generally are getting a little fed up on the parade of hopefuls that has come their way. In his estimation, his own and the voters' viewpoint may be refreshed by a summer timeout in politicking.

What Kennedy does when he resumes activity in the fall may depend somewhat on the progress his possible rivals have made in the summer months.

August Meeting
At least three governors who would like very much to have the 1960 nomination will get something of an opportunity to get their campaigns started at an August meeting of the governors' conference in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The three include Govs. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and A. B. Chandler of Kentucky. Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut will be on hand to help take care of Kennedy's interests.

Had Seen Pack
Jones, who pulled the boy's chewed body away from the snarling pack, identified five of the dead dogs as being the assailants.

Jones said he had seen the pack several times and believed they were all strays.

The area of north St. Louis county was said to be a favorite spot for persons who wanted to dump unwanted animals.

The father of the victim said he had reported packs of dogs in the neighborhood. He said he had thought about shooting at them but didn't want to cause any trouble.

Austrian Boy, 15, Saves Life of 220-Pound Swimmer

San Francisco — A 15-year-old Austrian who came to the United States by way of Brazil rescued an older boy one and a half times his weight from ocean undertow off San Francisco yesterday.

Other efforts at saving 16-year-old Ivan Vegvary, 220 pounds, had failed. He was being swept out to sea when 130-pound Franz X. F. Amor plunged into the cold surf with a small air mattress and carrying a dog leash. Reaching Vegvary, he tossed one end of the leash to him and pulled him ashore.

Amor came here two months ago from Sao Paulo, Brazil. He is a high school junior. His father is a cabinet maker.

President Eisenhower Voices High Praise Of John Foster Dulles

Cites Late Cabinet Member for Job in Advancing World Peace

Washington — Here is the text of President Eisenhower's statement on the death of John Foster Dulles, prepared and issued yesterday at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

"John Foster Dulles is dead. A lifetime of labor for world peace has ended. His countrymen and all who believe in justice and the rule of law grieve at the passing from the earthly scene one of the truly great men of our time."

"Throughout his lifetime and particularly during his eventful six years as secretary of state, his courage, his wisdom, and his friendly understanding were devoted to bettering relations among nations. He was a foe only to tyranny."

"Because he believed in the dignity of men and in their brotherhood under God, he was an ardent supporter of their deepest hopes and aspirations. From his life and work, humanity will, in the years to come, gain renewed inspiration to work ever harder for the attainment of the goal of peace with justice."

Personal Sacrifice
In the pursuit of that goal, he ignored every personal cost and sacrifice, however great.

"We, who were privileged to work with him, have lost a dear and close friend as all Americans have lost a champion of freedom. United, we extend to Mrs. Dulles, to her children and to all members of the Dulles family our prayers and deepest sympathies, and the assurance that in our memories will live affection, respect, and admiration for John Foster Dulles."

Seek Site for Brown County Retarded School

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Assemblyman Jerome Quinn, Green Bay, says he is discussing with the state welfare department the possibility of granting Brown county a parcel of land on the state reformatory grounds as a site for a new county school for mentally retarded children.

Quinn has consulted with Sanger Powers, director of the state division of corrections, about the transfer of a tract of reformatory farm land for the school.

Monday, May 25, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent A3

The transfer would require an act of the legislature.

(A 6-acre parcel of land in Grand Chute was donated for a school for mentally retarded children by the late Robert Plamann. A private corporation now is raising funds to build the school. The school would be turned over to the proper public agency when completed.)

The stones are large flat tablets on which pages are assembled before they are sent to the press for printing. Long decided to clean them and decided to turn them over to use the other side.

He found lettering on the underside of one identifying it as a grave marker nearly a century old. He said he had no idea how the gravestone became part of the equipment in his print shop.

John Foster Dulles' Career as an American statesman took him to every part of the globe and brought him into direct contact with virtually every leader of the world. These pictures show the famed diplomat at various stages of his career. At the left, Dulles and Dwight Eisenhower confer on a New York park bench in 1952 at a time when both were still to achieve their high government offices. Dulles had just been defeated for reelection as Republican senator from New York. He became the U. S. secretary of state the next year when Eisenhower became president. Dulles was most familiar in somber diplomatic garb but he dressed for the occasion during his travels as the next three pictures show. A yachtsman, he handled the wheel during a Venezuelan cruise; donned a native Philippine shirt at a reception in Manila and strapped on a life preserver for a helicopter ride. In the upper photo, second from right, Dulles clinks glasses with Yugoslavia's President Tito in 1955. In the lower photo he discusses Asian problems with India's Nehru in 1953 in New Delhi. At the far right, Dulles chats with Christian Herter, the man destined to be his successor, in Washington. Herter then was undersecretary of state.

Cancer Victims Include Some Of World's Most Famous Persons

BY FRANCES LEWINE Finished his memoirs only four days before he died of cancer in 1885. George Washington's mother died of cancer the year he became president in 1789.

While radium is used today to control some forms of cancer, it was responsible for the pernicious anemia death of its discoverer, Marie Curie.

And her daughter, Irene Joliot-Curie, a physicist who carried on her parents' work with radium, died in 1956 at the age of 58 of leukemia, a form of cancer brought on in this case by overexposure to radioactive materials.

Veiled in Secrecy Since 1937, cancer has been the second leading cause of death in America, exceeded only by heart disease. Its toll this year is expected to reach 260,000.

With all the frank publicity that goes out today about cancer and its victims, it is hard to believe that it once was a disease veiled in secrecy, unmentionable.

But it is only since World War II, authorities say, that cancer has been brought out in the open.

Sometimes in the past, the prominence of the stricken person has led to concealment.

President Grover Cleveland, his life endangered by cancer on the roof of his mouth, was secreted aboard a private yacht in Long Island Sound in 1893 for two operations in which the enigmatic Runyon — remain in the tire left half of his upper jaw was removed and replaced with an artificial section. Fund, begun in 1947, a year after his death, has channelled close to $12 million into cancer research.

In sharp contrast was the prompt announcement of Sec. of State John Foster Dulles' cancer research.

When actor Red Skelton took his dying 9-year-old son, Gertrude Lawrence and Su-feld Folies girl Peggy Richard, for a last look at some of the wonders of the world, the tragic journey emphasized the plight of cancer sufferers. The American Cancer society has kept a list of prominent persons who died of cancer.

John Foster Dulles Man of Principle

Moral Opinions Ironclad, Energy
Unbounding, Despite Illness

BY ED CREAGH

Washington — "If Foster goes to heaven, which is a pretty good bet, he will immediately start negotiations with the Devil to patch things up."

This is a direct quote from a man who worked closely with John Foster Dulles, the former secretary of state who died of cancer Sunday.

He might have added that Dulles would insist on God's terms, not the Devil's, in any peace settlement.

Foster Dulles — people who knew him tended to drop the "John" — was a man of ironclad moral opinions. In his book — he was a staunch Presbyterian, and his book was the Bible — black was black and white was white.

This undoubtedly gave strength to his convictions. It is for history to say whether, as some of his critics suggest, it also made him

This is the first of three articles on the career and personality of John Foster Dulles too unbending and self-righteous to see the other side's point of view in international negotiations.

"Inflexible" was a word often applied to Dulles, sometimes in praise and sometimes in blame.

Nobody denied he had energy.

Always on Job

He flew the Atlantic and sometimes the Pacific the way most people take a streetcar. He visited 46 countries, traveling about 600,000 miles in the process, during his six years as secretary of state. He worked incredibly long hours — often in great pain as his fatal illness developed.

At his office and at his Washington home, Dulles was constantly on the job. In his state department role he was the original do-it-yourself man. Administrative details he left to his helpers. Big foreign policy matters he handled himself. With a capital H.

He could do this because President Eisenhower had utmost confidence in him. The two were not especially close socially — Dulles was not a member of Eisenhower's golf-playing set — but the president leaned on Dulles in matters of state and never failed to declare his faith and affection.

Dulles' personality is hard to describe. A British correspondent once referred to him as a "pawky chap." This Scottish expression has two meanings — either cunning and sly or saucy and lively.

Neither definition tells the whole story. Dulles was both blunt and subtle.

He was, in his public days, a tallish, somewhat stooped man, ruddy of countenance, white-haired (he was 71 when he died), and endlessly active.

If any man was born to be secretary of state, Dulles was.

He was a grandson of John Watson Foster, a Civil war soldier who was secretary of state for President Benjamin Harrison.

Diplomacy Trained

He cut his diplomatic teeth at the Hague convention of 1907. He went there with Grandfather Foster and saw international law in the making. At that time Dulles was a junior at Princeton university. He seldom was away from foreign affairs for the rest of his life.

His great ambition was to follow in his grandfather's footsteps, and he did. Not without misadventure, to be sure. He was the sure choice for secretary of state in the cabinet of Thomas E. Dewey if Dewey had been elected president in 1944 or 1948.

But Dewey lost both times and Dulles, not without impatience, bided his time. President Truman, who beat Dewey in 1948, named Dulles acting chairman of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations — to sit in for the then (and now) ailing Gen. George C. Marshall.

Liked Action

Action was what he loved. He was criticized in many quarters for his incessant travels. Some people thought he should stay in Washington, plan high policy and run the state department instead of gadding off to Paris or Timbaktu.

But Dulles, who could put on old-fashioned carpet slippers and be almost as comfortable in a trans-Atlantic plane as in his own living room, wanted to be where the action was. And there he went.

Sometimes he needed time out. He headed then straight for his island retreat in Lake Ontario, where there was no telephone to ring. He sailed and thought and read and bird-watched, and if a crisis stormed up he figured he could always be back in Washington in time to cope with it.

He certainly had his crises. He took office just as the world was waking up to the fact that humanity now could destroy itself almost overnight. He felt from lifelong experience that peace must be forged, not hoped for.

Heart of Thinking

When the Korean armistice was announced in 1953 Dulles made a statement which goes to the heart of his thinking:

"In war men make vast sacrifices for peace. And then, when peace is won, they fail to make the lesser sacrifices needed to keep the peace."

"Let us, this time, not relax,

Humphrey Called Mid-Century FDR

Minnesota Senator's Backers
Are Gambling With Tactics

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — The backers of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination have determined on the biggest gamble of the pre-convention campaign.

Though they do not care to put the matter quite so strongly, they are staking everything on one roll of the dice.

Knowing quite well that their strategy has its perils, they have decided to present Sen. Humphrey as the Roosevelt New Dealer in the field of aspirants. Their risks are plain. Their strategy is, in military terms, like committing every last resource to a massive counterattack in full awareness that if it fails the whole war is lost then and there.

All or Nothing
But their candid conclusion is that for Humphrey it must be all or nothing.

Franklin D. Roosevelt is 14 years in his grave and this is a new political world with different problems from those he met so long ago. Since his death a spirit of moderation has swept the Democratic party.

The old Roosevelt New Dealers are for the most part no longer in power anywhere, either in public office or in the party. Roosevelt made powerful enemies with long memories. The image of Humphrey as the man who seeks frankly to be the heir to FDR will stir up these enemies again.

Face of Danger
Finally, the policy of the Humphrey strategists deliberately stares into the bright face of danger in two other ways:

1. It flatly and directly challenges to combat another former president who is also a liberal Democratic leader, Harry S. Truman.

(Truman is backing Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri for the nomination).

2. It necessarily will draw a sharper line between those party old-timers who basically "Truman men" and those who are "Roosevelt men."

Even so, the Humphrey men reckon that on balance they have more to gain than to lose. Perhaps they do. A certain New Deal cast was bound in any case to be put on Humphrey. His record is essentially a New Deal one. He is an official of the New Deal splinter movement called Americans for Democratic Action. And his campaign manager is one of the most authentic of the New Dealers, James H. Rowe, Jr.

FDR Brain Trust
Rowe, now a Washington attorney, was a member of the inner-inner FDR brain trust as a White House assistant to the president. He has remained faithful to Roosevelt doctrines in all the subse-

4 Injured in Calumet County Auto Accident

Chilton — Four persons were hospitalized at Calumet Memorial after a head-on collision, about 9:10 a.m., Saturday, on Highway 151, three miles west of Chilton.

Miss Karen A. Foss, 24, Madison, received medical treatment. A passenger in her car, Miss Terry Lee Myhre, 22, Waterloo, was treated for arm injuries.

Mrs. Randolph J. Schrauth, 44, Kellnersville, a passenger in a car driven by her husband, received arm injuries. A daughter, Karen Schrauth, had injuries to the left ankle.

The four were taken to the hospital by the Erbe-Hoffmann ambulance.

The accident occurred as the Foss car attempted to pass a semi-trailer, meeting the Schrauth car head-on. Combined damage to the vehicles was estimated at $1,500.

quent years in which party dogma and party memories have generally shifted away from the Roosevelt era.

Moreover, the late president's widow, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, has been saying markedly good things of Humphrey — kinder things than she has said for any other hopeful. Efforts are now being made to bring Mrs. Roosevelt and also former Gov. Averell Harriman of New York openly into Humphrey's support.

Rowe himself, oddly enough, did not initiate the decision of the Humphrey camp to run the senator as a mid-century FDR. He has, however, concluded it is a wise decision and it will form the basis for all his future sorties in seeking to gather up convention delegates for Humphrey.

The analysis of the Humphrey people is about this: Hubert Humphrey never would be given the nomination anyhow by a convention determined on a moderate candidate. Such a convention, in common sense, would turn instead to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Sen. Symington of Texas, Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Humphrey would never, in any case, be acceptable to the convention's conservatives — and certainly never to those from the south. He is barred from playing any kind of waiting game. He must identify himself and seek the sort of delegate strength real-ly open to him.

John Foster Dulles

In the eyes of President Eisenhower and former President Hoover, John Foster Dulles was the greatest secretary of state in this nation's history. They are not alone in this appraisal, especially after it became apparent that America and the free world were to be deprived of his unswerving devotion and great wisdom.

Although he was a militant Republican on the domestic front, he will be remembered almost entirely for his genius in international diplomacy which knew no partisanship. During his six turbulent years as secretary of state, he visited 46 countries and traveled 559,998 air miles, equivalent to 22 trips around the world. He ranged all over Europe — except the Iron Curtain countries — over much of the Middle East, Latin America and Asia.

Three Democratic presidents employed him on important missions. He was Wilson's emissary in 1917 to Central America to arrange for the protection of the Panama Canal, and he served the American commission as counsel at the Versailles Peace conference. He was adviser to the American delegation at the founding of the United Nations in 1945 at San Francisco, and he was adviser to Democratic Secs. of State Byrnes, Marshall and Acheson at conferences in London, Moscow and Paris. Under President Truman, he drew the Japanese peace treaty in 1951.

Between times, he earned a large independent fortune as an international lawyer. He headed the New York law firm of Sullivan and Cromwell at 39 and continued in that capacity until 1949, when he resigned to accept an appointment from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as United States senator from New York, succeeding Sen. Robert F. Wagner, who had resigned. A few months later, much against his will but at the urging of Republican leaders, he ran for the office and was defeated by the Democratic party's great vote-getter, Herbert H. Lehman, by less than 200,000 out of nearly 5,000,000 ballots.

At that time Gov. Dewey called him "the only man in the world today the Russians are afraid of," and for the rest of his active life Dulles justified that statement. He sometimes frightened diplomats of the free world because he met the Russians and Red Chinese head on, and thus became the target of the communists' most virulent propaganda.

His critics accused him of being too rigid, of failing to develop dynamic new ideas, of bringing us to the brink of war time and again. He was too blunt for them, used undiplomatic language, and answered threat of force with threat of force. Early in 1958, Life magazine quoted him as saying the Eisenhower administration had walked three times to the brink of war — during the 1953 armistice negotiations in Korea, and over Indo-China and Formosa — by letting the communists know the United States was ready to take "strong action."

He was quoted as saying the ability to get to the verge of war was a necessary art of diplomacy and that without this art war was almost certain to come. That was the simple truth, but unpalatable to those, at home and abroad, who sought to assure peace by sidestepping and temporizing. Sec. Dulles stood his ground and defended his "policy of seeking to prevent war by preventing miscalculation by a potential aggressor." He said:

I believe that the United States should adopt every honorable course to avoid engagement in war. Indeed, I have devoted my whole life to the pursuit of a just and durable peace.

I believe, however, that there are basic moral values and vital interests for which we stand, and that the surest way to avoid war is to let it be known in advance that we are prepared to defend those principles, if need be, by life itself.

He also believed in the value of religion in international relations. He thought that churches could exercise a decisive influence in determining the pattern of the future, but he opposed politics in religion. It was up to the churches, he said, to "get Christians to use Christian qualities in their lives as citizens." The son of a Presbyterian minister and himself an elder in that church, Sec. Dulles was present when Francis Cardinal Spellman ordained his son, Avery, as a Jesuit priest. He expressed his happiness that each of his three children had found a communion with God.

Former President Hoover said of him:

We have had many great secretaries of state. History will rank Sec. Dulles among the greatest of them — and in my view the highest of them all.

President Eisenhower said:

I personally believe he has filled his office with greater distinction and greater ability than any other man our country has known — a man of tremendous character and courage, intelligence and wisdom.

In any event, he never led us "over the brink." He could have no better epitaph.

Food Prices Will Rise Soon, But Not Expected to Reach 1958 Highs

Reprinted from the Wall Street Journal

Washington — Housewives will find food prices drifting seasonally higher in the weeks ahead, but grocery bills this spring and summer aren't likely to reach last year's record levels.

That's the assessment of agriculture department forecasters, who predict supplies through mid-summer of pork, grain-fattened beef, eggs, poultry and citrus fruit will be greater than a year ago. Supplies of dairy products, canned fruits and juices, watermelons and lower quality beef are expected to be smaller.

The overall range of food prices tends to climb at this time of the year, pushed mainly by rising red meat prices. Pork and beef supplies grow slimmer as the number of animals reaching market starts dwindling in late spring. Egg prices normally head higher as hot weather crimps production. These advances generally offset price declines for newly-harvested fresh vegetables.

Lower Prices to Farmers — Officials think the government's retail food price index, which stood at 118 per cent of the 1947-49 average in March, may rise a couple of points by July or August. But they repeated earlier forecasts that the price level will not reach last year's early summer high of 120, the loftiest on record.

The margin of lower retail food prices this year "will reflect mainly lower prices to farmers," the department said in its latest report on the national food situation. Food processing and marketing costs stood 3 per cent higher than last year in the first three months of 1959, and this spread probably will continue to average higher in the next few months. Consumer demand for food is expected to remain at a high level, bolstered by improved employment and economic activity, the report said.

Following are commodity highlights of the department's report: Meat and Fish: Pork prices, rising seasonally, will remain below last year's levels, reflecting the sale of the 17 per cent larger crop of fall-born pigs. Choice beef from grain-fed cattle — the kind sold most in stores — will be in somewhat heavier supply than last year, but lower grade beef from grass-fed cattle will be more scarce. Retail prices of most fish will average below 1958 levels, due to greater frozen stocks and more intensive commercial fishing operation.

Poultry and Eggs: Prices of broiler chickens and turkeys are expected to remain lower than last year through mid-summer. Bargain egg prices, held low by heavy production, aren't expected to approach 1958 levels until fall.

Dairy Products: Milk production in 1959 may average slightly above last year, although surplus supplies to be absorbed by federal purchases probably will be smaller. Prices are expected to hold steady, reflecting the continuation of price supports at last year's rates.

Fats and Oils: Supplies are at record levels. Prices for lard, margarine and shortening may hold below 1958 levels through mid-summer, although butter prices should average a bit higher.

Fruits and Vegetables: Heavier than year-ago supplies are expected for oranges, grapefruit, apples, strawberries and frozen orange concentrate. Canned fruit stocks are smaller, while supplies of canned vegetables are greater.

Higher 1959 production is expected to increase spring supplies of fresh broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower and lettuce. Smaller output is likely this year for spring tomatoes, sweet corn, cucumbers and snapbeans. There will be "substantially fewer" watermelons than last spring.

Justice Is Blind But Not Stupid

From the Newton, Iowa, Daily News

Justice may be blind but it isn't stupid. And sometimes it's amusing.

Take the case where two men were arraigned in a Newark, N. J., court on charges of receiving stolen goods. The men pleaded innocent. Their reason? "We didn't receive stolen goods, your honor, we stole them."

The charges were dismissed. Temporarily, that is — until a new complaint of larceny could be filed.

Legislative Oratory Almost Forgotten Art

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Nostalgia may afflict the judgment of even that habitue of the legislative press galleries who tries to guard against it.

But it seems to be time to relate that legislative oratory is on the wane.

There are not half a dozen members in either house of the legislature who would qualify as good speakers before a jury of representative forensic judges. Was it always that way and were the silver tongues of earlier eras figments of the sentimental imagination?

It is possible. And yet the sideline is reluctant to concede it. The names of great debaters are cited often in recollections where the older hands gather. There were good rough and ready artists, and men who often would take the pains of preparing a speech on a subject of importance and on which they wanted to persuade their colleagues and the public outside the chambers.

BUT NOW

Today there are the mumbler and the stumblers, the men who start thinking about what they say after they have gotten out of their seats to say it, the quick retort specialists — the merchants of sarcasm — but there are few genuinely effective speakers.

The wit and the eloquence and the keen satire that used to make some of the more important issues on the floor a delight to watch and hear have almost totally disappeared. Sessions are humdrum and enervating as a result. It is small wonder that the galleries are rarely filled, and then only with school children making capitol tours who appear anxious to leave after a few polite moments.

It is perhaps unfair to judge the assemblymen in this regard. The lower house of the legislature, as it is called for no good or valid reason, is an untidy place in its arrangements. It is noisy and informal. It is big. The circumstances are such that there may very well be some hidden oratorical talent there that has been discouraged from showing.

The senate is different. It has a strict decorum. Any senator can make himself heard if he wants to do so. It is a small chamber. It ought to be easier to make a speech there than almost anywhere that the senators have made speeches in their political lives.

SMALL HANDFUL

Yet more than 10 per cent of the members, say three or four, in the judgment of regular listeners are effective on their feet — not to talk about eloquence at all.

Nor is this dispatch going to name its own nominees for that classification — for fairly obvious reasons it may be hoped.

A couple of decades ago, state senators in significant debates were frequently quoted in the newspapers and sometimes at considerable length.

The direct attribution of senate debates is now extremely rare.

A part of the reason is the changing mechanical situation in the distribution of news, and another part relates to the increasing competition for news space in a more complex nation and a more difficult world. Legislators are not as important, in a news sense, as they were a quarter of a century ago.

But surely another reason why most of them labor in virtual anonymity is that so few of them express themselves imaginatively, convincingly and attractively.

Average Man Supports Elaborate Subsidy Plan

From The National Graphic

Ask the average man on the street what he thinks of government subsidies and chances are 10 to 1 that he will tell you he is against them. Ask him who gets most government subsidies and his answer will be farmers. Ask him if he or his business receive a subsidy and the answer is likely to be an emphatic "no."

But despite such common-sense expressed opinions, the American public has been supporting an elaborate system of government subsidies since the first congress met in 1789. It is difficult to name a business which is not receiving some type of government subsidy. This average man on the street who says he is opposed to all subsidies comes into contact with them everyday.

When he awakens in the morning, he turns on a light and immediately starts sharing the results of a subsidy provided through a fast tax writeoff plan which saves power companies billions of dollars — and which reduces his light bill accordingly.

When he goes to a breakfast of bacon and eggs, he shares the benefits of the government's $19 million federal meat inspection program — a program conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the sole purpose of assuring the public a safe and wholesome supply of meat.

If he has children in school, their education is subsidized by taxes paid by the childless neighbor across the street. And, if he is among the 35 million children who eat a hot lunch provided through the highly popular government school lunch program, he receives direct benefits from another $100 million government subsidy. If his children are in one of the 62,000 schools participating in the special school milk program, they come in for a share of still another $75 million subsidy.

Urbana, Ill. — A — What you believe are termites may not be termites at all.

H. B. Petty, extension entomologist with the University of Illinois and Illinois natural history survey, says except for two or three differences, termites closely resemble flying ants.

Worker termites are always white. But worker ants may be black, yellow, tan or almost red.

A difference in wing size is the easiest way to tell these insects apart. The front and back wings of the termite are the same size. But the ant's front wings are larger than its back wings.

Heavier Levies and Much More Red Tape for Boss

BY SAM DAWSON

Rome — Americans who remember the unpleasant drop in take home pay in January when the social security tax rate went up should look at Italy.

And U. S. employers whose contributions to social security funds advanced in the same proportion should be thankful they don't have to put up with what their Italian opposite numbers do. It comes to about 35 per cent of payroll, perhaps a little less, perhaps a little more depending on the type of business.

U. S. businessmen shake their heads over all the clerical work involved in filling out government forms and keeping track of each employee's contributions — not only to social security but also to the federal income tax collectors and, in some states, the state income tax collectors.

In Italy an employer reports to as many as six social security or similar agencies, the exact number, depending on his type of business. Some concerns are required to file declarations in advance as to how much overtime is expected in a coming period — and American employees and employers who think social security taxes are tough should take a look at Italy, says Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, in the following article. Dawson is touring Europe.

ber, depending on his type of business. Some concerns are required to file declarations in advance as to how much overtime is expected in a coming period — and

They must pay a 15 per cent tax on the overtime pay.

One social security agency — organized before the war but apparently forgotten afterward when other agencies sprouted up to take over the work — still assesses employers 50 lire (eight cents) monthly for each employee. Upon retirement the employee may get as much as 10,000 lire ($16) in a lump sum retirement bonus.

Many employers just close their eyes to this one, pay the retirement bonus themselves to avoid the red tape, but the agency still goes on, using the same fiscal tax it did when 50 lire was worth $2.50 not 8 cents as today.

Withholding Taxes

Employers also must withhold income taxes from employees in the same manner as in the United States; it's only the investors, businessmen, professional men, entertainers and similar persons who find ways to evade.

Look at just one instance of what an employer has to pay in various forms of social security to an employee — not to mention what he has to pay if the employee quits.

Giovanni has a fairly good job. He earns $200 a month from which his employer deducts 4.5 per cent ($9) as Giovanni's contribution to various social security taxes. Also deducted is 7 per cent ($14) for income tax. Then the employer pays, from his own pocket: 12.8 per cent ($25.60) to one old age pension agency; 6 per cent ($12) to another pension agency; 5.25 per cent ($10.50) to a health insurance agency; 1.15 per cent ($2.30) to a government housing agency; and finally 8 per cent ($16) to an agency that pays the employee a monthly family bonus. Total cost to the employer: 33.20 per cent ($66.40) monthly.

But that isn't all. The employer also must pay Giovanni a "thirteenth month" salary every Dec. 31. It's simply a year-end bonus of one month's pay, but all social security charges must be paid on this too.

If Giovanni quits he gets a liquidation bonus of one month pay for each year of employment. If he has worked for 12 years he gets a full year's bonus. If he's fired he usually gets even more depending on his type of work.

4 Senators Aim to Close Tax Loopholes

Washington — Four Democratic senators called Thursday for legislation they said would close tax loopholes and bring in additional revenues estimated at $2 billion.

Such legislation was prepared for introduction by Sens. Joseph S. Clark (Pa.), William Proxmire (Wis.), Eugene J. McCarthy (Minn.) and Paul H. Douglas (Ill.).

A joint announcement said: Clark's bill would eliminate numerous luxury items now taken as ordinary business expense deductions for tax purposes. These would include entertainment at night clubs, theaters and sporting events, as well as maintenance of yachts, hunting lodges, gifts between businessmen, country club dues, and travel to conventions outside the United States.

Proxmire's bill would withhold the tax at the source on certain dividend and interest payments, as is now done in the case of wages and salaries.

McCarthy's bill would repeal the 1954 special credit and exclusion from taxation of income from dividends.

Douglas' bill would reduce the oil and gas depletion allowance on a sliding scale basis by reducing the existing 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance to 15 per cent for those who receive income from oil and gas properties in excess of $5 million per year; and to 21 per cent for those with oil and gas income between one and five million dollars a year. There would be no reduction in the depletion allowance for those with oil and gas income below $1 million a year.

The increase in annual revenues from these tax changes was estimated by the sponsors to be $800 million for Clark's bill, $750 million for Proxmire's bill, $400 million for McCarthy's bill and $320 million for Douglas' bill.

Low-cost soil-cement pavement grows stronger year by year!

Maintenance crews can all but forget about the roads paved with soil-cement. Soil-cement holds up like no other low-cost pavement ever laid, has a life expectancy of 20 years plus. Soil-cement pavement is strong right from the start. And it keeps getting stronger! Tests show it often doubles in strength after years of use, is stronger inch for inch than any other pavement short of concrete.

No softening, no break-up after a hard winter. That's why maintenance costs stay low. Initial cost? That's low, too, because road builders work with native soils. Soil, cement and water are mixed on the roadway, rolled solid. Thin bituminous topping is added. Developed in 1935, soil-cement is now in service on more than 12,000 miles of roads. And street and highway officials everywhere are converting more mileage to soil-cement every year.

Gets stronger with age. Core cut from soil-cement highway showed strength had actually doubled in 14 years.

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna High school annual, "Papyrus," was distributed to students Friday afternoon, this year dedicated to Aage Fredenslund, the foreign exchange student from Denmark.

Theme of the annual was tributed by Elaine Asman, international with dividing circulation manager. Miss pages carrying a drawing of Marion Lemke served as face a nation and an appropriate adviser.

Figure depicting a citizen of the country. Fredenslund, first foreign exchange student to attend Kaukauna High school, was active in many clubs in school and spoke before many civic and service organizations since arriving in this country in August, 1958. While in Kaukauna he stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Haass, 501 Bel Aire court. He will leave Kaukauna June 28 and after a 30-day tour of the midwest and eastern part of the country will again leave for his native land. The cover of this year's annual is white with crossed American and Danish flags and the name "Papyrus," in blue decorating the cover. ### K-C Kimberly Plant Awards Certificates

14 Junior Trade Graduates Feted At Mill Dinner

Kimberly—Kimberly-Clark Corporation's second largest class of junior trades graduates received state and corporation certificates at the Kimberly mill graduation dinner at Hotel Menasha. The 14 men who completed the intensive 3-year training are Francis J. Vandenberg, Richard P. Oudenhoven, Alan M. Baerenwald, James F. Schuh and Henry A. Svetnicka, millwrights; Eugene F. Stuyvenberg and Ralph G. Gillespie, pipefitters; Kenneth J. Williamsen and William H. Van Grinsven, machinists; Ronald L. Peterson, welder; Ernest J. Kempe, Joseph F. Lenz, Edwin D. Walker and Gerald A. Kempen, electricians. The wives of the graduates were guests and received corsages. State certificates were presented by M. J. Hesselman, corporation trades supervisor; Kimberly-Clark certificates by Harry Pierce, mill manager at Kimberly, and the maintenance manuals by V. E. Zeuthen, staff engineering. The graduates bring Kimberly mill's junior trades alumni to 46, of which 45 are still in the employ of the Kimberly mill. Richard Nelson, plant engineer and master of ceremonies, said 20 per cent of the force in the mill's maintenance department are junior trades graduates. C. G. R. Johnson, vice engineer and chief engineer, told the graduates and guests that 281 junior trades graduates preceded this group since the corporation started the formal program in 1941. "Some of those graduates have gone into middle management. All of you have been willing to sacrifice to take this training, but remember that you always are learning and always must continue to improve," he said.

Interest Rates Up; Loans Get Tight

BY SYLVIA PORTER

We are now re-entering a cycle of tight money. This one will be, according to all reliable signals, the toughest since the panic of the early '30s.

Already, the price of money, the level of interest rates, is the highest in a quarter-century and it's heading higher. Already, many loan applicants are finding it more difficult to get credit, and the months ahead, already, want to borrow more to add bonds carrying low coupons goods to their shelves and expand by the U.S. treasury, and their plants, homebuild-states, cities and corporations in the easy money cycles of the past have sunk to record lows and are moving lower.

Loans Difficult

Tight money means a period in which most borrowers must stand in line to get credit, in which many are turned down flat or granted only a part of the cash they want, and in which all who do get loans must pay heavily for them.

Tight money happens when the demand for credit tops the supply of money available in the pool for loans. It happens when the economy goes into an upswing and clamping down will be rougher in as a result, businessmen want to borrow more to add bonds carrying low coupons goods to their shelves and expand by the U.S. treasury, and their plants, homebuilders and home buyers want to borrow more to finance houses, millions of consumers want to borrow more to buy cars, appliances and the like and states and cities want to borrow more for essential public works.

Inflation Prevented

It happens when the Federal Reserve system refuses to add enough money to the credit pool to take care of the increased loan demands because the central bank is convinced that if all who want to borrow can do so easily, prosperity will become an inflationary boom.

The conditions I've described have been emerging clearly for months, are now dominating the money markets.

What will this cycle of tight money mean to you?

To homebuilders and homebuyers: Mortgage money is going to be the most expensive in years, and the stated cost of many mortgages is likely to be a lot less than real cost. Although costs will vary from area to area there is no doubt the lid will be on mortgage money. Many homebuilders and buyers are simply not going to get the financing they need to go through with their plans.

To business borrowers: The highest-rated corporation can't get a loan for less than 4 1/2 per cent today, and hidden extras are raising the effective borrowing rate to well over 5 per cent. Less established, desirable borrowers are paying more, of course. Now, the probabilities are many loan applications will be cut, others will be refused.

To states and cities: Lenders are demanding 3 1/2 per cent and more even on the tax-exempt securities of the highest-grade municipalities. Increasing numbers of states and cities will find that the legal limits on what they can pay for money will bar them from borrowing.

To buyers on the installment plan: They'll pay more for loans on autos, appliances, etc. Although the real charges will be hidden in the small print and rates will vary violently, costs will be definitely up.

To corporations selling bonds: They'll be placing the fattest coupons in years on new bonds and be glad to get buyers for them.

To holders of outstanding bonds: Prices of bonds they bought in the past will be coming out with higher coupons.

To the U.S. treasury: It'll pay more than 4 per cent just for short-term loans of a year or less.

To banks: They'll make more on the high loan rates and fat coupons on new bonds, but they'll be in a squeeze too because they won't have sufficient cash to meet loan demands.

To savers: They'll gain because financial institutions will be paying higher rates to attract more and bigger savings accounts.

The tight money phase of 1959 is shaping up even now as more restrictive than that

Grandma Decides Iron Curtain's Just Nonsense

Bad Hersfeld, Germany — "I'm too old to understand this fuss about an Iron Curtain," said 84-year-old Grandma Elise Becker. And off she walked across the 10-year "death strip," to have a birthday coffee with her nephew in communist East Germany.

Wilhelm Stein, her 74-year-old nephew, is a resident of Grossensee, just 200 yards across the border cutting Germany in two.

Because there is no authorized border crossing in the vicinity, she was told she'd have to travel roundabout 100 miles to reach her nephew.

"This sounds like utter nonsense," Grandma Becker said.

She took her walking stick and reached her nephew's home in a quarter of an hour.

After an hour's chat, Grandma started back. She walked smack into a communist patrol.

"At my age, you can't expect a woman to make a 160-kilometer detour just for a cup of coffee," she told the East German officer.

The officer escorted her to the border with a polite farewell and no fine.

State Farm Panel Picked By Democrats

Group Will Serve On Party's Special Advisory Committee

Post-Crescent News Service

Milwaukee — The Democratic party organization has acted to strengthen its campaign slogan by naming a panel of farm and rural leaders to its special economic groups advisory committee.

Walter Brick, Brillion, chairman of the Brown County Farmers union, Harry Gullikson, Iowa, a leader in the Wisconsin Association of Co-operators, and Martin Salm, Chilton, an officer of the National Catholic Rural Life conference, Sunday were chosen among 13 rural leaders to a special farm advisory committee of the state Democratic committee.

The state committee earlier had named leading labor organization officers to a labor advisory committee and it plans to name also a businessmen's advisory group.

The farm committee selections involved mostly REA and other cooperative organizations and the Farmers union, including the president of the latter, Gilbert Rohde of Clark county.

Robert Moses, Eau Claire, of the UFU staff, assisted in the selections.

No members of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau federation, the state's largest organization of farmers, were chosen by the Democrats.

The economic groups advisory committee of the party will be headed by Prof. Adolph Suppan, a professor of English at the University of Wisconsin Milwaukee.

Charlie Snapped a Picture of the rapids just above the village of Carillon, Quebec. Here he rested 14 hours after a tense nine hours of careful and determined guiding of his canoe, "The Green Apple," loaded with 300 pounds of sand for ballast. Wave by wave he made the journey, portaging for a quarter mile along this stretch of rapids.

Trail of the Voyageur

It Took 9 Hours of Wave Battling, But Charlie Makes It Across Lake

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Carillon, Quebec — With 300 pounds of sand for ballast, crossed fingers for luck and a splendidly obedient canoe, I have at last traversed the storm-tossed Lake of Two Mountains.

The journey, which carried me from wave-crest to wave-crest in a 35 to 40-mile westerly wind, was frightening. It was also "impossible" according to Yvon Weighman, a French Canadian of nearby St. Andrews East with whom I spent a few hours in talk.

The long, tense voyage required nine hours, which terminated in a quarter-mile portage over the raging rapids just above this village. Here I rested after a total of 14 hours in the long-gone wake of Jean Nicolet, discoverer of Wisconsin.

I have wondered many times what Nicolet might have done when he met some of the difficulties I have encountered. I think he may have been wise to struggle too long over this.

er than I have been, and stood fast until the weather softened and permitted an easier passage of the 25-mile lake. I made my move because I feel I must not require readers to would summarily put a halt to the trip.

Thus my fear was substantial. Another point of stress: Since it was very cold—about 30 degrees — I was wearing my heaviest clothing which I would have to peel were we to swamp — The "Green Apple" and I.

However, despite my lack of discretion and my impatience to be on the trail, we made it. The "Green Apple" responded beautifully to every demand I made upon it, and there were many. We had to strike every wave right, and we did. It seems to me now that I can remember every wave we encountered, such was the need for concentration.

Now, however, we are out of the big waters for a time and this day has dawned bright and beautiful. The Ottawa river at this point is about three-quarters of a mile wide.

Portage at Carillon

This village of "Carillon," is nicely named for a portage, for the French Canadians call it "carry on." But history and Nicolet passed here.

In 1660—26 years after Nicolet's visit to what was to become Wisconsin — the French sought to have a peace conference with the savage Iroquois. They settled on this area for the pow-wow.

Down from Quebec City came Dollard des Ormeaux with 16 white men and 40 friendly Indians. Here they met and discussed peace. Then the Iroquois, dissatisfied, went back to their camps and returned with 500 warriors. On May 24 they massacred Des Ormeaux and his men. There is a monument here, marking the site.

Since then, it seems, history has traveled into places other than this and so must I....

Lindsay Crosby Called 'Phantom' by Brothers

Youngest of Four Most Reserved
With Sly, Quiet Humor of Father

BY BOB THOMAS
Lindsay Crosby, youngest of the four Crosby sons, then dropped out to serve his army duty. That's the way the older Crosbys greet their baby brother, Lindsay. He has out of it "I liked Williams, but I didn't earn the handle by his air of mystery. While the comings and goings of the other three are fairly predictable, Lindsay is always hard to locate. Here's how the brothers describe him —

Gary "He's like the old man (Bing). He's more quiet than the rest of us, more sly with his humor."
Phillip "He's the coolest one of us. He has a great disposition."

Dennis "Lindsay just exerts."

Gary and the twins were only a year apart. Lindsay came three and a half years later and he recalls being an unwelcome tagalong during his boyhood. After Dixie died, Bing dropped his career to spend most of a year with Lindsay. They toured Europe, where Lindsay pursued his interest in art.

By doing the best we can as performers, suggests Lindsay, "and going around the country to show ourselves as individuals, not just Bing Crosby's sons." The challenge is plainly up to them and they seem willing to accept it.

Horton Record Keeps Top Spot In Fox Cities

'Battle of New Orleans' Popular For Second Week

BY DICK DISC
Johnny Horton's "Battle of New Orleans" remains the overwhelming choice of the Fox Cities for a second week.

The tune continues in first place. "Sorry, I Ran All the Way Home" is still in second place and "The Happy Organ" moves up one notch this week to third place.

Two new tunes make their appearances on the chart this week. They are Wilbert Harrison's "Kansas City" and "Personality," a fast moving tune featuring good vocalizing, a nice orchestra and good choral background.

Best Liked
Here are the top 10.
1. "The Battle of New Orleans" by Johnny Horton
2. "Sorry I Ran All the Way Home" by the Impalas
3. "The Happy Organ" by Dave "Baby" Cortez
4. "Kansas City" by Wilbert Harrison
5. "Kookie, Kookie" by Ladd Byrnes and Connie Stevens
6. "Quiet Village" by Martin Denny
7. "Tiaguna Jail" by the Kingston Trio
8. "Dream Lover" by Bobby Darin
9. "Personality" by Lloyd Price
10. "A Teenager in Love" by Dion and the Belmonts

In the new album spotlight: "The Wonderful Year 1930" by Garry Moore. A follow-up board, is "Kansas City" and to the 1940 edition, this one "Sorry, I Ran All the Way Home" is now in second place. Ten years ago "Riders in the Sky" was a big one and just five years ago people took a liking to "Wanted" Mind" and a host of others. Good orchestration and a strong chorus add much to make this album another "Ring-A-Ling-A-Lingo" by stand-out.

Periodic Medical Checkups
Needed for Healthy Life

CARL N. NEUPERT, M. D., minimize their effects. Every one — especially young children and persons over 40 — ought to visit their physicians for a check-up once a year. The earlier an unsuspected cancer can be detected the better the chances are for recovery. Heart disease, high blood pressure, and other serious threats to our well-being often can be modified or their usual after effects greatly reduced providing they are discovered early enough and the patient follows his physician's directions.

Tragic Reflection
The alternative all too often only results in this tragic reflection: "If I had only seen my doctor sooner, the results might have been different!" Many times it's already too late. There's a very good case for a periodic health inventory. Why not arrange for yours today?

Ideal Inventory
An ideal health inventory includes not only a physical examination, but also a medical history and certain laboratory studies.

Physical examinations, the cornerstone of any complete health inventory, help to locate medical problems and less of Dulles was a pity for the world.

President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina said America lost "one of her most distinguished personalities" in Dulles' death.

Prime Minister Walter Nash of New Zealand said "everything about Dulles had dimension," and that he was one of the most dominant figures of our times.

Egypt's government - controlled press, without overlooking the long conflict between Dulles and President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, paid high tribute to the American. Al Akbar praised him as a "courageous opponent" and lauded him for his opposition to the British-French - Israeli attack on Egypt in 1956. Al Akbar called him one of the strongest men in the western camp and speculated that his death "may cost the United States the international leadership which he had successfully maintained."

Dulles had spent most of his time in the hospital since the latest operation about 10 weeks ago. He underwent massive radiation treatment before going to Florida for rest early last month.

Later X-ray studies April 1 showed a tumor in his lower neck. His resignation was announced the next day. An attack of pneumonia May 1 weakened his condition.

U. S. Woman Faces Age of Many Tasks, Speaker Notes

A new age of responsibility faces the American woman today because for the first time in history she holds the voting balance of power in her hand.

This political fact was pointed out to 310 women voters by Mrs. Kay C. Metz, Chicago, who addressed the Wisconsin Federation of Business and Professional Women convention at Saturday night's banquet session at St. Joseph school cafeteria.

The former newspaper woman and legislator chose the topic, "Women's Role in the World Today." She compared the 1959 woman as having a job more difficult than the tasks facing such historic women as Florence Nightingale, Susan B. Anthony and Amelia Earhart.

"Atomic annihilation and the possibility of the destruction of civilization itself has pushed the American woman out of her old pattern of life," Mrs. Metz pointed out.

By 1957, there will be almost four million more women citizens than men in America—and they must take their roles in public affairs, politics, labor and national security, she asserted.

Males dominate politics and run unions. To these fields, woman could bring her decision-making appeal "in the interest of the people" and her special capabilities of gentle persuasion, patience and a non-aggressiveness attitude.

Woman's influence for good can also effectively thwart communism, commented Mrs. Metz. But she must fight the ideology actively; she must learn the aims of communism, she should make sure that no organizations to which she belongs supports "front" causes and she must see to it that the youth of this country be instilled with a love of country and God.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schuman will be chairmen of the event.

Perk Up Pillows In Automatic Clothes Dryer

Here's a hint that will put "spring" into bedroom pillows. Pillows of feathers, down or synthetic fabrics can be tumbled in the automatic clothes dryer to restore their soft plumpness and sunshine freshness.

Check filling before tumbling, and stitch up any openings. To completely guard against loss of ticking, stitch pillows into a pillow case before laundering.

Tumble only one or two pillows at a time, to give them plenty of room to fluff up. If you've washed them first, remember that synthetic fabric pillows will dry in about half the time it takes feather pillows.

Methodist Mothers' Club Schedules Potluck Dinner

The Methodist Mothers' club of the First Methodist church will have a potluck dinner in the church dining room at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Harry Duke, chairman, and Mrs. Ralph Chamberlain. Mrs. Ronald Balke, Mrs. Maurice Schlanser and Mrs. Andrew Blackburn.

A program will be held after the meeting in the social union room. All mothers are invited to attend.

BPW Delegates Took Time between business sessions for a Saturday noon luncheon at the Appleton Elks club. Chatting before the luncheon are Mrs. Clyde Nelson, Appleton Fox Valley BPW president; Mrs. Dorcas Roemer, Kenosha; and Mrs. Elizabeth R. Fratt, Racine.

Anita Losli Elected State Treasurer at BPW Conclave

Miss Anita Losli, Appleton, was elected treasurer of the Wisconsin Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., at the Saturday afternoon session of the 39th annual convention held in Appleton at the Trinity Lutheran church parish hall.

Miss Dorothy Safford, Superior, was elected state president. Other officers are Mrs. C. A. Ekstrom, Milwaukee, first vice president; Miss Helen Neuenberger, Two Rivers, second vice president; Miss Lucille Schott, Williams Bay, third vice president; Miss Pearl Kluge, Racine, recording secretary; and Miss Ruth Lenz, Burlington, nominating committee chairman.

Miss Safford and her officers were installed in ceremonies after the Saturday evening banquet at St. Joseph parish hall. Installing officer was national representative, Mrs. Isabella J. Jones, Pittsburgh, national career advancement chairman for the BPW federation.

Legislation Platforms
Mrs. Mabel McClanahan, Appleton, 1958-59 state president, presided at the Saturday morning and afternoon sessions. The delegation voted to adopt the tentative national BPW legislation platform for 1959-60.

The state platform included support of all items on the national platform which could also be applied at the state level. Section A of Item I included advancing the position of women and the use of women's full capacities in government and industry, including promotion of elections and appointment of qualified women to policy-making posts.

Section B of Item I called for equal pay for comparable work. Item II supported legislation designed to promote safety and safeguard the security of Wisconsin and its communities with emphasis on the legislative program of the Wisconsin Roadside council, the legislative program of the Wisconsin Council for Safety, conservation and protection of Wisconsin natural resources and the Wisconsin Civil Defense program.

Billboard Bills
The women voted to support the billboard control bills presented by the Wisconsin Roadside council to the legislature. They did not accept the invitation from the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., to hold the 1961 national convention in Milwaukee.

A courtesy resolution was presented and accepted to extend the state federation's appreciation to the Appleton, Fox Valley, Neenah-Menasha and Kaukauna clubs for their hospitality as hostess clubs.

At the Sunday morning session, Mrs. McClanahan was endorsed by the Wisconsin federation for the office of national recording secretary, the election of national officers to take place in the summer of 1960.

Noon Luncheon
The Saturday noon luncheon was held at the Appleton Elks club, with Miss Safford presiding. Mrs. Jones was guest speaker on "Effective Living," the convention theme and the national theme for 1959-60. Mrs. Jones is currently associate director in charge of planning the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Mrs. Kay Clancy Metz, former newspaper woman now in public relations for the Quaker Oats company, Chicago, was guest convention speaker at the banquet. She discussed the "Women's Role in Today's World." Both speakers are active in the BPW organization.

Prior to the afternoon business session, a panel discussion of "Accent on Youth" was held. Mrs. ElNore Schultz, Sturgeon Bay, was moderator and panel members were Betty Whitford and Lois Wilke, seniors at Sturgeon Bay High school. They discussed the Door County BPW club's Career Council program which the group instituted in the high school in January to assist junior and senior girls to prepare for the business world.

The New Club Citation award was presented to the Merrill BPW club for sponsoring a new club in Tomahawk. The Merrill club is only two years old.

The convention closed with a memorial service on Sunday morning and a post-convention board meeting.

Perfect Picture
Each individual is a piece of a picture or mosaic and without each part the picture is imperfect, she said. She urged that each person do her part and her best.

There is the opportunity for each individual to realize his full potential and only that person can develop himself. To reach the full potential one has to exercise himself, use what he has and stretch his capacity to achieve individual education, both formal and all processes of growing, she stated.

"The person who reaches his full potential is becoming educated. Live for you and with others. To grow you have to give most of yourself to others," she said.

Gentleness and womanliness are integral parts of the female individual, she declared.

The woman is responsible for spiritual and character development of her children and to continue those qualities in her family and herself. They play an important role in effective living.

"As members of BPW we owe to our employers and to ourselves the very best on the job and to help ourselves and other women to attain the fullest."

Leadership
Leadership, claims Mrs. Jones, is joining with others who have the same interests, goals and similar motives. By groups the individual attains leadership. He has to extend himself to include the interests of others. He needs integrity and above all must be true to himself.

The leader must have a sphere of interest in which to lead, whether it is part of the family, club or the all-inclusive community.

A person becomes a leader when he is identified with the community.

The important facets of the role in the community is to accept the responsibility of that role, she concluded.

Accent Rugs
Need New Silhouette
The accent rug has acquired a new figure, becoming longer and slenderer and, with its changed silhouette, a new identity: the "panel" rug.

These panel rugs are well named, being usually only about twelve inches wide and almost any length. They are designed for use in front of chairs, sofas, next to beds and before fireplaces. They come in such brilliant combinations as orange, red, coral and violet. However, despite their new identity they still fill the role of their predecessors, the accent rugs, as bright spots of color on well-polished floors.

Because of the size and shape of the panel rugs and the advanced modern motifs in which they are woven, they have a particular affinity for contemporary furniture. They also may be used to advantage in combination with the more usual type of accent rug, which has become almost ubiquitous on the polished floor, now an integral part of the modern home.

With the smaller floor covering has come greater concentration on fine design and weave, many of the new little rugs being hand woven and patterned with an intricacy of coloring which gives them a jewel-like quality. Some of the designs are taken from old Greek friezes while others are unmistakably of contemporary inspiration.

Mrs. Kay C. Metz Modern Crusader For Today's Woman

BY SUSAN NOYES
Post-Crescent Society Editor

A woman in the tradition of Susan B. Anthony came to town Saturday to address the Wisconsin Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs which convened here over the weekend.

A modern day feminist, she had exchanged the suffragette's cloak and bloomers for a rich blue and white print silk evening dress, accented at its plunging neckline by a wide swath of royal blue stole.

Mrs. Kay Clancy Metz, who has no time for clinging vines—"Women must come out of the kitchen and assume their full share of responsibility. . . in politics, public welfare, industry and national security."

Woman's Good Will
The forthright Mrs. Metz is no hatchet-faced supporter of women's rights — she's a pleasantly plump redhead with snapping brown eyes. When she smiles, which is often, her eyes reflect her enjoyment.

Numerical strength has focused attention on women, points out Mrs. Metz, but her belief in woman's good will is what gives point to her crusade.

Mrs. Metz has traveled extensively throughout the country to cry her alarm. Her trips are sponsored by her employer, the Quaker Oats company, who employed Mrs. Metz after she sold herself and her message as a public relations exponent of the free enterprise system.

Receives Honors
"I've no hobbies," she states. "This is my whole life — all I have time for."

That she has done her work well is illustrated by the fact she was named one of 24 top Chicago business women two weeks ago. She also has merited an "I" award from Iowa State college for outstanding achievement in journalism—the first non-graduate to be so honored.

Mrs. Metz, a news writer of note, holds her degree from Iowa university, Iowa City—but not in journalism. She plunged into the weekly newspaper field in Lamoni, Iowa, a farming community of 2,500, where she was living as wife and homemaker.

Entered Politics
She was the paper's ad-taker, shop-manager and columnist—writer—all experiences which helped springboard her to reporting and feature writing positions on the Denver Post, St. Louis Star-Times and the Chicago Tribune.

In 1949, she entered a new field—politics—running for the Iowa state house of representatives from Lamoni on the Republican ticket. She won her first term by a 200-vote margin; the second by a 3-to-1 walk.

Why politics—"because I felt I was better qualified than my opponent and I didn't want him to represent me." She brought her searching interest to such powerful committees as appropriations, ways and means, board of control and public health.

Edited Own Paper
Her male-dominated world didn't faze her. "I was used to a room full of men from my reporting days," and her work interviewing such notables as Eleanor Roosevelt had given her the necessary poise.

Mrs. Metz also spent five years editing and publishing her own newspaper—in Lamoni, where she got her start. "I ran it on three rules—don't employ, the Quaker Oats company, who employed Mrs. Metz after she sold herself and her message as a public relations exponent of the free enterprise system."

Retire in Mexico
She recalls her Mexican trip nostalgically. "I'm going to retire in Mexico," she confides. "The climate is wonderful, the exchange rate is 13 to 1 and I can spend my time feature writing and doing research."

Mrs. Isabella J. Jones Mrs. I. J. Jones Concerned With Youth Welfare

BY SUSAN PARKER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

"The 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth is a truly American demonstration of how people in a free nation work together in a voluntary organization. Citizens, groups and officials in the state and nation unite to plan for children. This problem is unique in the world—for all to come together in a national meeting and free forum to show and do something with their interest in youth."

Those views were expressed by Mrs. Isabella J. Jones, national representative to the Wisconsin Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., state convention.

Mrs. Jones is associate director of the 1960 White House conference and was the national BPW's voice at the state convocation held Friday through Sunday in Appleton.

Interest in Welfare
Her interest in youth and welfare began, she claims, when she was a newspaper reporter and editor.

"With the natural curiosity of a newspaper woman I became interested in welfare programs," she states, and she began to work with the groups in her hometown, Pittsburgh, and then was asked to join the Pennsylvania state department of welfare to be on the information staff doing its public information program. From that department she was secretary of welfare for her state, with responsibility for children's services.

The next step was being appointed as assistant to the assistant secretary by the national secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington, D.C., from which she was released to join the youth conference staff.

Mrs. Jones explained that the 1960 conference committee was appointed by the president and that it includes 10 students. The group has been working since May 8, 1958. The entire plan includes a citizen-government partnership. Congress made the initial appropriation, the department selected the staff and then outsiders or U.S. citizens joined the ranks.

State Committees
She said the conference is primarily of adults about youth, but 14 per cent of delegates to the convocation will be college and high school students.

The conference committee designated that the state governors should select a state committee to study state advances in education, health, family services and other facets of state aid to youth and compile the reports of the study made since the 1950 conference. These reports will include an evaluation of state needs and past and future progress, and then they will be submitted with the national report and national organization reports at the conference.

Mrs. Jones stressed the point that the entire process is an excellent example of a citizen's committee planning and presenting a conference, all being appointed by the governor, not national officials, although the convocation is termed White House and the invitations theoretically come from President Eisenhower. The state committees will select delegates on a population basis and they will include professional, civic minded and state leaders and youths.

Wisconsin's Group
Mrs. Jones said, "We are very much impressed by the outstanding demonstration of youth advancement in Wisconsin in conference planning, and we look for leadership in the Wisconsin committee on planning the conference."

The theme of the conference is "to promote opportunities for children and youth to realize their full potential for a creative life in freedom and dignity." This will be the golden anniversary of the conference, the first begun in 1909 by President Theodore Roosevelt.

Problems such as employment for those who drop out of school and the care provided for children of working mothers will be among the many discussed, she pointed out. They will be presented in an opening and closing general assembly and then delegates will enter small work-groups to give all a chance to voice their opinions.

Awakened Concern
Mrs. Jones hopes specific achievements will be the result and that the citizen will feel an awakened concern and have a new knowledge. She believes that "from the best thinking comes the best way of doing things." The state delegates will return with their information and ideas and begin some concrete plans for their states.

"It will give us an opportunity to show and give aid to America's greatest concern, its children's welfare. We haven't told the story well enough internationally to show that we're not materialistic, but concerned with the rights and welfare of the individual."

Tomorrow's Bridge—Today Many New Things Are Changing Bridge

BY WILLIAM SEAMON

There can be denying that bridge is here to stay. It is estimated that some fifty million Americans play the game and more "join the club" every day.

Most players of today remember when the Point-Count system revolutionized bridge bidding. As a matter of fact, just about everyone who plays bridge utilizes the point count in some manner. So do I.

However, there are many new things that are changing bridge bidding. As a member of the new set in bridge, I have found that certain ideas in bidding have been incomplete. A great majority of the experts today have taken a swing to the left in bidding. Things that once would have been looked upon as ridiculous are now an accepted fact.

In future columns, you will find the modern trend in bridge exhibited in every possible way and if any reader gains anything from it, then I shall feel that I am a huge success.

Suppose that I describe very briefly what you might expect to read about.

First of all, the opening two-bid will be a weak hand rather than the powerful hand that once was synonymous with an opening two-bid. The opening bidder promises that he has at least five cards in a major suit if he opens the bidding with that major suit.

It does not follow that a minor suit opening bid has five cards. With a mandatory opening bid and only a four-card major suit, the original bidder substitutes his best minor suit—in terms of length.

In other words, the opening bidder can now open a "short" diamond suit as well as the accepted short club suit.

Another radical change is the jump-shift response to denote a bad hand rather than a good hand. Just about every bridge player knows that any change of suit by responder constitutes a 100 per cent forcing bid. As long as this fact is kept in mind, then a jump shift can only take away bidding room for your side—and also from the opponents.

This is important—it is absolutely more important that the correct trump suit be set at the earliest possible bidding level than the level be set before the trump suit is established. If the jump shift response is used to describe a good hand, we are proceeding in reverse.

The finest bid in bridge that will be discussed is the one which reads as follows: A no trump response to a major suit opening bid is on a one-round force. Inasmuch as there is not room at the one-level when partner opens the bidding with one heart or one spade, responder, with poor distributional hands, has gone to the two-level and has encountered disasters of major proportions on many occasions. Now that one no trump is forcing, responder can bid one no trump and then still be assured of the opportunity to show his suit without getting overboard.

The negative double, which is as new in bridge as this year's automobile, will be shown as will the responsive double. Then, too, you will see a new idea in major-suit raises. The single major suit raise will show a good hand rather than the time-worn six to ten points.

Naturally, these bids must be explained logically or they are worthless. That is my job and with your indulgence, a new face will emerge in bridge bidding.

Tomorrow we'll see how the weak two bids work with this hand.

To understand the basic principles to Tomorrow's Bridge—Today, you may want to read William Seamon's leaflet of that title. You may obtain it by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to William Seamon, in care of this newspaper. (Copyright 1959)

Our Children Youth Must Learn Nation's History

BY ANGELO PATRI

Decoration day—Memorial day—Veterans' day—as you know it, is one day among all the days set apart for special celebration that we should all have in the minds of our boys and girls, particularly those in secondary schools. They need to know that the life they enjoy was bought for them by this unselfish devotion of their ancestors, men and women who wanted to continue in college, in their business, on their farms, in their homes with their families, just as they do today, but who gave up their lives in order that this land might continue to be the land of freedom and the opportunity that youth enjoys today.

Our boys and girls cannot know this unless we tell them about it and tell them so that they understand that they are in debt to all those who served in war on land and sea for their sakes. This story should be dramatized, told in song and story, the day marked by parades, speeches and celebrations in which the young people take prominent parts.

Angelo Patri offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning child training. If you would like to have his leaflet P-30, "Aid For Poor Spellers," send 10 cents in coin to him, in care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

It is our duty to teach the young people that such service is a debt they owe to a long line of men and women who laid down their chosen work and gave up their way of life to take up the life of the soldier, the sailor, the fighter in the service of their countrymen.

Dramatize History

Our youth must know their history. Young people need to hear again the story of its beginnings authored by men and women who pledged their lives, all they had, all they

He was stationed in Germany in the air force. They were honored at a reception given by his mother, Mrs. Arnold Strick, Little Chute, left, Saturday evening at the Towns Club.

BY ELIZABETH MILLER

A trip to the curtain and the rest of the walls. On the drapery fabric departments right now will give you better-than-ever ideas about solving window problems with Fiberglas. Fabrics of Fiberglas look different these days, more like those of natural fibers, even of linen and wool. They're lighter weight and appear in a wonderful new variety of textures, especially in sheers and semi-sheers, because of a special new soft and fluffy yarn called Aerocor. And colors are almost limitless now that color can be fired directly into the yarn. This new dyeing technique also makes possible for the first time new patterns such as plaids which combine colors in the weaving.

Ready-made curtains and draperies as well as by-the-yard Fiberglas turn fast to the new airy Aerocor fabrics, both in lacy weaves, and prints. The greater variety of textures brings greater variety of print styling, from florals through crisp geometrics, to include scenic and panel prints. No change is made by the new process in this man-made glass fiber's ability to withstand sun, fire, insects, shrinking and stretching, nor to wash and hang again perfectly without the touch of an iron.

Mrs. R. C.: "At our summer home, the fireplace is almost in the center of the living-dining room and I'd like to paint the wall above the fireplace a color to contrast with the rest of the walls. On the living room side, I have twin sofas in Provincial print slip covers that are red and gray with touches of yellow, green and black. One lounge chair is dark green. The dining furniture has just been refinished in black. What wall colors do you suggest other than green or yellow, which there's enough of in the other rooms? The windows have new white ruffled curtains and we plan to buy new rugs. We may install new vinyl flooring."

Have you thought of a mural wallpaper? Even a sparing use of one would do wonders to create atmosphere and add color to the room. The black-ground might be gray, and new rugs could pick up deep bright shades. The new vinyl floor could be a deeper shade of the gray, perhaps with color or inlay, or multi-color spatter or simple all-over pattern in one or more contrasting colors. Since you rule out other colors from the hints, gray seems to be the best choice for the walls, but plain gray everywhere might be dull. Contrasting color over the fireplace only might be a disappointment because it would seem to divide the room in the middle.

Mrs. I. O.: "Some time ago you mentioned a rod for cafe curtains which would stay in place in a window frame without being attached by nails or screws. How does this work and where can I get one?"

Spring ends on the rod hold it up firmly when they meet the vertical sides of the window frame at right angles. Almost any drapery hardware department can provide this kind of rod, if not from stock, by ordering it for you. It's impossible for a dealer to carry all of the hundreds of rods that are available, but he is prepared to order those he lacks from manufacturers' catalogs.

Your Problems Ann's Stand on Ducktail Haircuts Riles U. S. Youth

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm one teenager who is off you for life. I just read the letter from that kid with the ducktail haircut. That did it. I nearly passed out when you sided with the principal. Since when is a corny high school principal an authority on hair? I've never yet seen one, who had any.

You knew you were going to get us kids all steamed up because you said "Sorry, gang, but I call 'em as I see 'em." Either your eyeballs need cleaning or old umpires should wear glasses. That call stank.

About 70 per cent of the guys in our school wear ducktails. They look real sharp. Most of them are clean-cut athletes, not hoods or thugs. I get six haircuts a year and I consider myself neat at all times. This is one teenager who attends church every Sunday — ducktail and all. — Ducky

Dear Ducky: Thanks for brushing the mop out of your eyes long enough to write the letter. Plenty of ducktailed readers from coast to coast quacked about the advice. The mail is running 50 to 1 against me, but in spite of all the static, the original verdict still stands. Ducktails belong on ducks.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am going with a wonderful young man. We are talking seriously about getting married. For several months I've been thinking about asking him to shorten his last name. Finally, last night I broke the ice.

He went into a rage and said he'd change girls before he'd change his name. I told him I didn't want him to change it. I just want him to leave off the "ykowski." He made it plain that he has no intention of doing so, and if I want him I'll have to take his name.

What is your opinion — is he being arbitrary? I just can't see myself going through life with a name that is unpronounceable. — Miss Smith

Dear Miss Smith: How would you like to be Miss Smith forever? It could happen—and it would serve you right. No name is unpronounceable. Some names require a little more effort than others. This young man is proud of his name and you should be happy to have it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a woman whose three children are grown up and living away from home. My husband is busy with his lodge meetings and civic organizations about three evenings a week. I wouldn't mind any of this if I had something to keep me busy during the day. My life seems dull and boring.

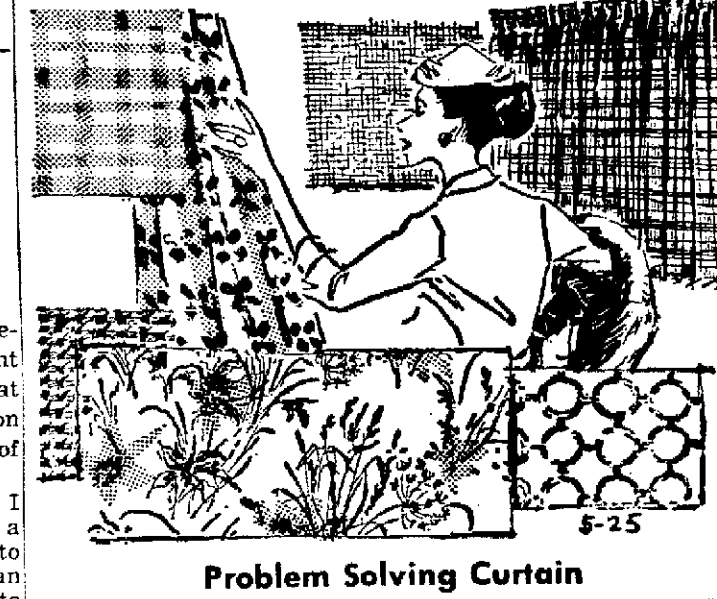

I'm very much interested in the field of television. Where does a person start? I well aware there's lots of competition, but I am willing to work hard. I hear, too, that the pay is good, and the hours are short.

I won't send you my picture, or list my qualifications because I want the straight dope with no build-up. What I need from you is advice on how to break into the field of TV. — Restless

Dear Restless: How can I tell you "how to break into a field" when I have no clue to your abilities? Are you an actress? Would you like to read commercials? Or are you handy with a screw-driver and able to repair sets? If it's TV performing you're interested in, go to the local station and ask for an interview. Be prepared to hear "Don't call us — we'll call you" at least a dozen times.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for Ann Landers' new booklet, "Help for the Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Civic Ballet Wins Hand for Performance

The Appleton Civic Ballet's presentation of "Westward Ho," an original ballet by Mrs. Robert Lemke, was applauded by 1,300 Fox Valley residents Sunday afternoon and evening in the Appleton High school auditorium.

Dolores Shea and Robert Lemke danced the opening story of a southern belle and her suitor, who go west following the Civil war. Both dancers excel in their perfection of ballet technique. Adding background color to the plantation scene were little pickininnies, a Negro mammy and a chorus of other southern ladies and their beaux.

Two rousing square dances transported the audience from the easy living and leisure of the South to the exciting times in the wild west. Then Sally Keller gracefully glided through a dream sequence.

Bouncing onto the stage in the final act, the dance hall girls and cowboys gave a gun-slinging saloon dance with a enough pep and humor to send the crowd into gay laughter and applause. Each dance hall queen did a high stepping, skirt swirling solo in her version of the "can can." Barbara Lamb's spins, Kay Meyer's beats, Barbara Notebaart's fouetté turns and Chris Le Dain's kicks showed the rewards of the many hours of practice spent on these dances.

After a scene during which the "wives" find their "husbands" in the saloon and square dance, the lovers are reunited. A lively finale followed, with the entire company participating.

Q. When I come in to file for my retirement benefits must I bring a statement of my wages? If so, how far back?

A. Yes, it will speed up the processing of your claim if you can bring in your W-2, withholding tax statement, for the last calendar year. You should also bring in a list of the names and addresses of your employers and the approximate amount of your wages during the current year.

Q. I have been a member of a labor union and several fraternal organizations for a number of years. My age is recorded on their records. Will these records, showing my age or date of birth, be sufficient proof for Social Security purposes?

A. Yes, but they must be certified by the custodian of such record.

The social security administration office is in the courthouse annex, 501 S. Main street, Appleton.

Little Rock Ballots on School Board

Little Rock, Ark. — The controversy over school integration in Little Rock reaches another critical point today with a school board recall election.

At stake were all six seats on the board — now evenly divided between segregationists and moderates.

The election — expected to draw a record vote of 30,000 — was looked on as a test of strength between adherents of Gov. Orval E. Faubus and citizens protesting the firing of 44 teachers and administrators by the three segregationist board members.

Also in the background of the clash are conflicting opinions over the governor's closing of the city's four high schools to prevent integration.

Today's ballot carries the names of the six school board members in alphabetical order. After each name there are two boxes to be checked "for" or "against" by voters in the Little Rock school district.

A majority vote will determine whether each member will be continued in office or ousted.

A public hearing will be held Wednesday afternoon in Madison on the Wolf River Improvement association's request for a joint interim committee study of the Wolf river watershed.

The association's original request suggested $25,000 may have to be appropriated to conduct the study.

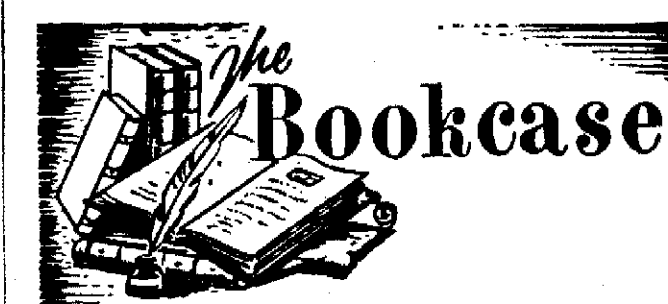

It was proposed that the joint interim committee consist of three senators, five assemblymen and five public members to conduct the study between the 1959 and 1961 sessions of the legislature.

The association has said its objective review and analysis of water problems in the watershed area. The Wolf is one of the northeastern Wisconsin's major recreational sections.

Treasure Hunt Retold

Boyhood Interest in Lost Cities Leads to Biography

("The Gold of Troy," by Robert Payne. Published by Funk and Wagnalls.)

About 35 years ago an English boy attending St. Paul's school, in London, came across an account of the legendary treasure found during the 1870s and 1880s of the last century on the probable site of Troy and Mycenae by an eccentric millionaire.

The boy—Robert Payne—was entranced not only with the buried cities of the ancient Aegean world but with the career of the amateur archaeologist Heinrich Schliemann, who discovered them.

Only a year or two ago, however, after coming across a newly published German edition of much of Schliemann's voluminous correspondence, Payne was inspired to write the archaeologist's biography. Born in Germany, Schliemann was forced to leave school in his early teens and go to work as a grocer's helper. A drunken miller who in his cups used to declaim Homer was Heinrich's introduction to what was to become the absorbing passion of his life. In those days, as he listened to the miller, he only knew that the sonorous passages struck a responsive chord in his soul.

Ambitious For Wealth. He had no time for Greek. He was ambitious for wealth. He saved enough, finally, to leave the grocer's, and after learning rudimentary book-keeping he found a clerk's job, first in Hamburg, later in Amsterdam. Between the ages of 20 and 24 he taught himself seven languages: home in New York City, in a hotel right off Times Square, where he finds more peace and quiet, he says, from the time he was 25 he night to dawn (his normal had established himself in St. Petersburg, the capital city of Russia, as chief representative of all a great city live of one of the greatest trading firms on earth. And from then on, there was little that Heinrich touched that didn't turn to gold.

But he was restless, dissatisfied, unfulfilled. It was then he turned to the study of Greek and began to devour the "Iliad" and "Odyssey," to dream endlessly of Priam's Troy and the golden city of Mycenae.

Bitterly unhappy with his cold and haughty wife, Schliemann finally left Russia for good, and after traveling the world over settled down in Athens. It was from there that he set forth, with the "Iliad" as his literal guide, to find the treasure of Troy and Mycenae. In his untrained eagerness he dug below the site of Homer's Troy, but discovered a treasure in gold that electrified the world. Again in Mycenae he found the remains of a civilization far more ancient than that celebrated by Homer, and again a treasure beyond price.

It would undoubtedly please Schliemann to know that a man like Robert Payne had written his biography. For though Payne has never had for gold, like him he is a wanderer, a linguist and a man with a limitless capacity and enthusiasm for his chosen career.

Payne now makes his home in New York City, in a hotel right off Times Square, where he finds more peace and quiet, he says, from the time he was 25 he night to dawn (his normal had established himself in St. Petersburg, the capital city of Russia, as chief representative of all a great city

Remember Twelve Points About Feeding Children

Memo to mothers about feeding children:

1. Use lots of finger foods.
2. Keep foods simple.
3. When preparing foods, remove those parts that are hard to chew.
4. Serve colorful food items, with lots of eye appeal.
5. Serve a good variety of foods.
6. Keep helpings small and let the child ask for more.
7. If a food is refused, supply the needed nutrients in a well-liked substitute item.
8. Cook most vegetables quickly and in very little water. (Exception: use lots of water to cook "smelly" vegetables.)
9. Serve raw fruits and vegetables frequently.
10. Introduce new foods in small amounts, one at a time.
11. Allow between-meal snacks, but not to the point where they interfere with regular meals.
12. Serve foods from each of the basic seven food groups every day.

They are: Group 1—green and yellow vegetables. Some raw, some cooked, frozen or canned.

Group 2—Oranges, tomatoes, grapefruit or raw cabbage or salad greens.

Group 3—Potatoes and other vegetables and fruits—raw, dried, cooked, frozen or canned.

Group 4—Milk and milk products—fluid, evaporated or dried milk, or cheese.

Group 5—Meat, poultry, fish or eggs, or dried beans, nuts or peanut butter.

Group 6—Bread, flour, cereals, natural whole-grain or enriched.

Group 7—Butter. Use for spreads and for seasoning.

ECHO Viruses Quite New, About 20 Varieties Known

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have that we know of: others have met up with a new virus — caused epidemics affecting ECHO. The name is said to thousands in a single community. be the initials of the two doctors who discovered it. My son has had a particularly potent case, and I am curious about ECHO. —Mrs. L. G."

ECHO virus. Dr. Molner is quite new — new in recognition, that is. However, I'm sure they must have been around doing damage for a long, long time.

It is only in the 1950's that we have records on the ECHO viruses — I say "viruses" because they are a whole group. At least 20 varieties already are known, and maybe the experts have identified some more when I wasn't looking.

Meaning of Name

They weren't named after the discoverers. ECHO stands for "enteric cytopathogenic human orphan," and I understand that the orphan part of the name, which has a good scientific meaning that is a little too complicated to bother with now, may not be altogether true. But I suppose we'll keep on using the name.

We speak of ECHO 4, or ECHO 8, or ECHO 6, to distinguish the different types, but generally speaking these viruses cause illness which have some of the characteristics of colds and some of the characteristics of diarrhea, the "enteric" part of the name representing the latter. Sometimes they cause a rash, sometimes not.

Depending on the variety of the virus, fevers may be moderate (up to 102) or high (up to 106). There are some types that have been identified in the laboratories but have not can offer only a stone's throw away.

Areas Of Outbreaks

Among the recorded outbreaks so far, there have been some in Iowa, New York City, western New York State, Boston, Washington, D. C., Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and others — and on that I am cribbing some information from an article published by Cincinnati's famous expert on viruses, Dr. Albert B. Sabin. Dr. William McD. Hammon, another noted authority, has also done a great deal to track down the behavior of the ECHO viruses.

Victims range from very young (and even premature) babies to adults. There is no present reason to think the viruses are deadly, but they certainly can make people very sick.

And I don't think there is any way for patients to know whether an ECHO virus, or some other organism, is making them ill. The diarrhea (or nausea and vomiting) in some varieties might also be caused by bacteria rather than virus. The running noses or other symptoms might be from colds, flu, allergy.

The foregoing will give you a hasty notion of what the ECHO viruses are; ask me again in five years and I dare say I'll be able to tell you that much more has been discovered. For the moment, the ECHO viruses are just one phase of our probing into the little-known field of common diseases caused by virus.

Refugees in Turkey Tell of Fights in Mountain Passes

BY FIRUZ MAKULU
 Samsatli, Turkey —A— Refugee Kurds say 6,000 of their tribe are opposing the forces of Premier Abdul Karim Kassem and their own leftist tribesmen in Iraq.

They are concentrated in the vicinity of the Mezhar pass on the Turkish-Iraqi borders under the leadership of Sheik Raschid.

Refugees who have fled into Turkey say religion, women, communism, kidnappings and feuds are all factors behind the fighting in the remote mountain passes near the borders of Turkey and Iraq. They say there have been at least two pitched battles near the Turkish border.

The Kurds are semi-nomadic tribesmen who live in parts of Iraq, Iran, Syria, Turkey and the Soviet Union. No accurate census has been taken, and estimates of their total number range from slightly under four million to seven million. Less than 100,000 live in the Soviet Union.

Here at the southeastern tip of Turkey, in villages one can reach only by trudging along alpine paths at times less than a foot wide, Kurdish refugees gave their accounts of events in Iraq.

Trouble Started

"The trouble started soon after Kassem came to power," said Kahn Abdal, a 55-year-old tribal chief with piercing blue eyes and the strong face of a Kurdish mountaineer.

"Kassem told all the sheiks and tribe leaders to come to Baghdad to show their obedience. Sheik Raschid — our sheik — would not go."

In the regime of Nuri Said and King Faisal, before the 1958 Revolution, Raschid valive Kurds increased, and late in April Sheik Raschid ordered one of his tribes—the Biradost—into Turkey from their border village of Besusun.

Moving in the primitive, rough region, they were stopped by a river. They bridged

It took Firuz Makulu, a member of the AP staff in Istanbul, five days to reach the rugged territory at the southeastern tip of Turkey where 1,200 Kurds, mostly women and children, have become refugees from fighting in Iraq. Makulu interviewed the refugees. This is the story they told him.

in two days with fallen trees and made good their escape.

It was a minor epic of a journey. About 1,200 Kurds, most of them women and children, came into Turkey to stay. They brought with them 878 horses, 570 cows, 12 mules, 4,000 sheep, 900 goats, their primitive household goods, gold jewelry and two portable radios.

Most of the young men did not stay. They turned back to join the 6,000 Kurds gathering around Sheik Raschid.

Reporters who trekked into this hard country to see the Kurds found their own journeys nearly epic in themselves. From Istanbul, about Khan Abdal, 55-Year-Old leader of the Biradost tribe of Kurds which fled into Turkey from Iraq to escape the pro-leftists regime of Prime Minister Abdul Karim Kassem, poses for the photographer in Turkey.

800 miles away, it took five days—by plane, bus, truck, jeep, boat, horse, mule and finally foot.

There are few more rugged inhabited places in the world. Houses are made of sun-baked mud, huddling in small valleys lined by towering mountains. The nearest hotel, and a rough one at that, is 160 miles away.

Settle in Turkey

But the hardy Kurds settled in easily, 45 miles inside the Turkish border, in tents supplied by the Turkish Red Crescent organization.

In interviews with them it became apparent that while the main trouble in Iraq stemmed from Sheik Raschid's refusal to submit to Kassem, there were many contributing causes.

"One has been the opposition of the conservative sheiks to the leftward trend of Kassem's government. Khan Abdal said: "Communist rule in Iraq has be-power in the northern part of the country.

Some Kurds, including the Barzani, Mawardi and Yousifi, are pro-communist. Mullah Mustafa Barzani himself is one of communism's most potent agents in the Middle East, a

Watch the Child Who Has Bad Falls

By Upton X. Furman, Chiropractor, Neenah

Negligence in checking children following severe falls is the cause of more children's disorders than any other thing. And winter time finds children meeting with minor accidents than any other time of the year.

Numerous case histories of patients show a high percentage who trace the onset of their illness to a fall, many as far back as childhood. If you think back yourself, you may find that you are now suffering with some bodily ailment, you can trace the beginning of that trouble to the time of a fall or several weeks or months after that.

Keep your spine free from nerve interference and you will enjoy good health. But most important of all, at this time of the year, see that your children receive Chiropractic attention immediately following a severe fall. Condensed from "The Chiropractor."

Among Oshkosh State College graduates on June 6 will be Ernest Friebe, Oshkosh, right, who will celebrate his 70th birthday in August. Talking with him is Dr. Sherman E. Gunderson, professor of economics at the college.

OSC June Graduates to Include 69-Year-Old Pupil

Oshkosh — Ernest Friebe, Oshkosh, may well be the oldest student in the nation to receive a college degree when he is graduated from Oshkosh State college June 6 with some 200 other graduates.

Friebe will be 70 in August and, as are most of his classmates, he will be thinking of the future. "I have several positions under consideration," he said when queried about his plans "but I do not have to make decisions with the haste I did 30 or 40 years ago."

He is on the eligible register as a substitute postal clerk as the result of a civil service examination and he has an application on file for a position with the Alaska Methodist university which is scheduled to open in September of 1960. He has considered the home missionary field and feels that his four years in college have been so challenging he is also thinking of graduate work. "I want my choice to be one which will bring me the greatest returns — not financially but morally and spiritually."

Plans Canada Trip Plans are complete, however, for the immediate future. He plans to visit friends in the Pacific Northwest and Canada.

Friebe was born on a farm in Ozaukee county in 1889 and in 1911 enrolled at Oshkosh State college, but it lasted only three or four days. His application for employment with the Paine Lumber company had been accepted and he dropped school. He remained there until 1934 in charge of timekeeping and payroll and then worked with the Wisconsin Axle division and Universal foundry, both Oshkosh companies, until he retired in 1954.

After the deaths of his wife and youngest son he decided to enroll in college again, so in September of 1955 he became a 66 year old freshman majoring in social science.

On-campus he joined his classmates on the ice skating rink and other light sports although he admits he is not as spry as he once was. This he illustrated recently as he was hurrying to an appointment.

He took a short cut across the campus, which included scaling a stone wall three feet high. Using his arm, he swung himself to its top, caught his balance and dropped to the ground on the far side, right into the path of a faculty member.

"Ernie" merely smiled and said "Forty years ago I could have jumped it!"

Two Youths Lose Licenses for 90-Day Period Neenah — Two youths had their driver's licenses suspended for 90 days each by Police Justice E. P. Arpin this morning after they pleaded guilty of racing in the 300 block on Fourth street at 7:55 p.m. Sunday.

They are Robert F. Kosloske, 17, 419 Fourth street, and Dennis J. Freund, 16, 608 McKinley street. A third youth was fined $35 and costs plus six points against his driver's license after he pleaded guilty of speeding 70 miles an hour on Winneconne avenue at 1:50 a.m. Sunday. He is Harvey P. Jacobs, 18, 468 Manitowish street, Neenah.

Mrs. Fabian Inda, route 2, Neenah, forfeited $29.20 Saturday for speeding 60 miles an hour on Main street at 12:05 a.m. Thursday.

Charles A. Gibbs, 36, 319 Monroe street, forfeited $14.20 Saturday for speeding 44 miles an hour on N. Commercial street at 1:20 a.m. Wednesday.

Winneconne Main Street Resurfacing May be in 1960

Winneconne — Resurfacing of Main street probably will not be scheduled for this year's program, village officials learned at a meeting recently with L. R. Empey, district highway engineer, Leon Morrissey, county highway commissioner, and Supv. Joseph Melcher, member of the county highway committee.

Plans for the resurfacing are to be formulated and then presented to the village board for confirmation. At its meeting Thursday night the village board voted to refund to the present owners of property about $2,100 in sewer and water assessments. It was thought that owners of the property when the assessments were made included that cost as part of the purchase price of the property.

Lights on Bridge Eleven fluorescent lights are to be erected on the bridge over the Wolf river, extending into the air 30 feet and using the present standards.

The zoning and planning commission asked the board to designate a certain amount of property in the Ripon addition to be converted from residential to business classification. The Winneconne corporation also asked that it be given an additional strip on Mill street in exchange for a certain amount of street property now owned by the corporation since a small part of one of its buildings extends onto Mill street.

The board set Thursday for a special meeting.

Defer Judgment in Case of Menashan Oshkosh — Entry of judgment in the case of Leslie E. Boushley, 53, Ninth street, Menasha, charged with being an habitual drunkard, was deferred until 10 a.m. Tuesday by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsing.

Boushley was arrested Friday night at his trailer home by Winnebago county sheriff's deputies. Bond was set at $150.

Milwaukee Man Heads Civil Defense Council Oshkosh — George W. Car-nahan, Milwaukee county civil defense coordinator, was elected president of the Wisconsin Civil Defense council at its organization meeting here Saturday. Ninety-eight persons attended the meeting.

Neenah to Offer Puppet Making in Summer Program

Neenah — Registration for puppet activities sponsored by the Neenah Recreation department through its summer playground program will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. Wednesday, June 16, at the Lincoln school.

This program will stress the construction of puppets, the building and arrangement of background scenery and the production of puppet plays.

Mrs. Tod Barnes again will be the instructor this year. The popularity of the puppet program under her direction resulted in a total attendance of 802 last year in 29 instructional periods.

This program offers an opportunity to improve or learn an interesting skill and to enjoy a form of artistic expression, Jim Hrubecy, summer playground director, said. An award will be made for outstanding puppetry work.

Youth Appears in Court on 2 Counts

Oshkosh — Raymond Mantefel, 18, route 2, Neenah, appeared in municipal court Friday on charges of reckless driving and disorderly conduct and his next appearance was set for 10 a.m. next Monday. Bond was set at $100 by Judge S. J. Luchsing.

Mantefel was arrested after he allegedly took a mail box from a home on County Trunk BB in the town of Menasha Wednesday night and ran his car over a lawn off a nearby town road.

Use Fresh Asparagus for Luncheon, Supper Menus

Oshkosh — Fresh asparagus for luncheon or supper menus can be served in a variety of ways.

For asparagus with cheese on toast, cook enough asparagus for eight to ten spears for each serving. Toast a slice of bread for each serving. Melt from one-fourth to one-third cup of processed cheese for each serving in the top of a double-boiler, adding a little cream. Arrange a serving of asparagus spears on each toast slice, pouring the cheese sauce over the top of the asparagus.

An asparagus casserole, suggested by Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent, can be made by combining one cup grated cheddar cheese with one cup milk, two tablespoons flour, two tablespoons butter in the top of a double boiler. Add minced onion, salt and pepper for flavor. Add milk slowly to the mixture of flour and melted butter.

After the cream sauce is thickened, add cheese and stir constantly until cheese has melted and you have the desired thickness. Put asparagus in a greased casserole and cover with cheese sauce. Top with crumbled cooked bacon crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until top has browned.

Pick asparagus from your garden when it is at its peak of quality. If you buy it from a store, remember the stalks that are mostly green are the most tender. The portion of the stalk having a white color will tell how much will be discarded.

Clean asparagus by washing it carefully, removing some of the stem caps. Dry with paper toweling and store in the refrigerator in a moisture proof bag.

Cook asparagus until it is just tender and serve immediately. Because the tips are more tender than the stalks, they require less cooking time. Cook the parts of the stalks in a covered saucepan in a small amount of salted boiling water. After ten minutes, lay the tips on top of the stalks. In five to ten minutes, the entire stalks and tips will be tender.

A strip of foil about two inches wide, placed under the asparagus before cooking, facilitates removal from the pan.

Building Permit

Menasha — A building permit for a 28 by 72 foot frame house with attached garage has been issued to Leonard Flatoff. The house, with a $12,000 valuation, will be at 948 Eighth street. It is the 20th new home this year, compared to 18 at this time last year.

Spring Teams Near Close of '59 Schedules

Sectional Net Meet Features Week's Program

Menasha — Only a few contests are scheduled on the high school spring sports scene as the remainder of the clubs approach the close of their schedules.

Highlighting the week's activities will be the sectional tennis tournament at Oshkosh Saturday in which both Neenah and Menasha will participate. The winners will qualify for the state meet the next weekend.

Neenah has a tennis match against Oshkosh here Wednesday afternoon while St. Mary faces Marinette Central at the St. Norbert college courts today and may make up a match against Green Bay Fremont. Menasha may meet Fremont in a postponed match Tuesday or Wednesday.

Members of the Neenah track squad, who qualified at Green Bay Friday night, will participate in the state class A meet at Milwaukee Saturday. Menasha failed to qualify anyone.

The three baseball squads have concluded their schedules. Neenah and Menasha is district play Thursday and St. Mary in the Catholic tournament Sunday night.

Conway Places Fourth in State Marbles Meet

Milwaukee — Barry Conway, Menasha's representative in the state marbles tournament here Saturday, finished in fourth place with a 17-9 record. He was seventh a year ago.

Don White, an Indian youngster of 14 from Superior, won the championship with a 22-4 record. Esequiel Martinez of Milwaukee was second and Don Johnson of Madison third with one more victory than Conway.

The 23rd annual meet was played under the east stands of the Marquette university stadium.

To the victors belong the spoils and for winning the State Catholic high school baseball championship, Mike Fleming, left, captain of Milwaukee Marquette, received the first place trophy from the Rev. Joseph Becker, St. Mary High school principal. Representing runnerup St. Mary at the right are Gary Shriver and Tom Hanson. Two runs in the seventh gave Marquette a 5-4 win Sunday night.

A fairly good crowd attended the championship game although the weatherman was true to form and again produced a day (Saturday) of bad weather, forcing the rescheduling of the semi-finals.

Menasha — "Always a bridesmaid and never a bride" is an appropriate term to apply to this year's St. Mary High school athletic teams in tournament play.

Last March the Zephyr basketball team reached the finals of the state Catholic tournament only to lose to Racine St. Catherine. Sunday night the Menashians were in the finals of the State Catholic High school baseball tournament where they were edged by Milwaukee Marquette 5-4.

Because of Saturday's rainouts the semi-final games were played Sunday afternoon and the finals Sunday night. The third place game was cancelled.

A 2-run homer by first baseman Mike Gigli in the top of the seventh gave Marquette the tying and winning runs. The Menashians had a rally going in the bottom of the frame but Mike Horan, in relief, put down the uprising to chalk up his third tournament win.

Mike Lauerman started for the Hilltoppers and Horan relieved in the fifth. Bill Steger opened for St. Mary and Tom Balthazor took over in the seventh. Gigli's blast came off the latter to give the reliever the defeat. Both teams made five hits.

Zephyrs Score
The Zephyrs opened the scoring in the third when Paul Meier walked, stole second, got to third and then home when Tom Hanson bunted and Lauerman threw the ball past first base.

Marquette tied the score in the fourth when Gerald Kubiak gained life as the third strike got away from catcher Bill Becker. The runner stole second, third and then home.

The new champions added another in the fifth on Gigli's single, a passed ball, a balk and a wild pitch. Ed Lotzer walked, stole second, went to third on an infield out and came home on a wild pitch to tie the score in the last of the fifth.

Marquette Leads
Marquette again took the lead with a run in the sixth on Pat Sheehan's infield hit, a wild pitch, steal of third and passed ball.

With two out in the St. Mary sixth, Bill Becker was safe on an error. Adrian Martin ran for him. Bill Simon batted for Paul Meier and walked. Tom Hanson drilled a double to left scoring both runners for a 4-3 lead.

Gary Voell led off Marquette's seventh with an infield hit. He was sacrificed to second and scored ahead of Gigli on his homer. Gigli, the first hitter to face Balthazor, hit a 3 and 1 fast ball.

Lotzer popped out to open St. Mary's seventh. Jim Rueckl bunted but was ruled out for running out of the base line. Batley kept the Zephyrs alive with a hit. Martin walked but Horan fanned Bob Jensen to end the game.

Fischer Cops 880 Yard Run

Gives La Crosse A First Place in State League Meet

Milwaukee — Hector Fischer, freshman from Neenah, won the 880 yard run in 2:00.7 in pacing La Crosse State college to second place in the Wisconsin State college conference track meet here Saturday.

The University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee won the meet with 77½ points. La Crosse had 48 and Oshkosh was third with 31.

Rod Coughlin of Winneconne and Oshkosh State was fourth in the shot put and fifth in the discus. Gene Conger, Winneconne and La Crosse placed fifth in the broad jump. Jack Roome, Kaukauna and Oshkosh State, second in the low hurdles; Roger Wolf, Kaukauna, and Oshkosh, fifth in the javelin, and Tom Hogan, Clintonville, and Oshkosh, fourth in the high hurdles.

Waukesha Falls 3-2 in 'Semi' Test

Menasha — St. Mary advanced to the finals of the state Catholic High school baseball tourney with a 3-2 triumph over Waukesha Memorial Sunday afternoon behind the strong right arm of Tom Balthazor.

Champion Milwaukee Marquette bested favored Kenosha St. Joseph 4-2 in the other test. The loss was Kenosha's first after 15 wins. Both games were makeups of Saturday postponements.

Balthazor halted Waukesha on three hits, walked two, hit a batter and struck out 13. The Zephyrs made six hits off Ron Six and Fred Hess, who relieved in the fifth inning.

Waukesha Tallies
Waukesha scored a run in the first on two hits and held the advantage until the top of the fourth when St. Mary tied the score through a walk, a sacrifice and Balthazor's double.

The losers again went ahead with a marker in the last of the fourth. A walk, a hit batsman and an error loaded the bases. Six hit to Balthazor, who threw badly to the plate in a force attempt, the run scoring. The next two hitters were easy outs.

St. Mary put the game away with two in the fifth. Ed Lotzer and Jim Rueckl opened with singles. Gary Batley faked a bunt and the runners completed a double steal. Batley then came through with a single to left scoring both runners.

Two unearned runs in the top of the seventh provided the margin in Marquette's win over St. Joseph.

With two out, Pat Sheehan singled. Gerald Kubiak added a one baser. A throw to third was too late to get Sheehan and the third baseman, trying to cut Kubiak down at second threw the ball into right field, both runs tallying.

3 Crack Homers
Marquette had scored a run in the first on Kubiak's homer and another in the third on two hits. Bases-empty circuit clouts by Mike Witkauskis in the first and Tom Ruelle in the third accounted for all of Kenosha's runs.

Winner Mike Horan allowed four hits, walked six and fanned nine. Paul Yutka, who suffered the first loss of his high school career, permitted seven bingles, walked four and put eight down on strikes.

Hurls Outdo Hitters

All Games Decided by Three Runs Or Less in 8th Catholic Tourney

Menasha — The eighth annual state Catholic High school baseball tournament was more closely contested than its seven predecessors and one in which the pitchers outdid the hitters.

The most runs scored by a winning team was five and the victors of the seven games only managed 27. The losers collected 19. The widest margin was three runs in Kenosha's St. Joseph's 5-2 win over Madison Edgewood. Four games were decided by one tally and the other two by two.

The most hits made by one team in a game was Waukesha Memorial's eight in besting Little Chute St. John. The meet included a trio of three, four and five hit efforts.

Marquette, coached by Edward Czypka, only used 10 men in the three games and all but third baseman Pat Sheehan were seniors. St.

Menasha just had three seniors in its starting lineup for the championship game. They were Ed Lotzer, Gary Batley and Bill Steger. Senior Tom Hildebrandt, one of the Zephyrs' top hitters, was idled by a sprained ankle and wasn't in uniform.

Airline Asks CAB Ok on July 1 Service

North Central Requests 2 Flights For Fox Cities on Route Changes

North Central airlines has asked the civil aeronautics board to allow it to serve the Fox Cities July 1 rather than by the board's June 8 deadline and to serve the Outagamie county airport with two daily round trip flights, one to be taken from a Clintonville route.

North Central wants board permission to add Appleton as a stop on its Milwaukee, Appleton, Clintonville, Marshfield, Stevens Point and Eau Claire route and to substitute Appleton for Clintonville on another route. This would not result in loss of flights at Clintonville, since that city would be served by an alternate flight.

North Central also has asked the board to allow it to defer service to Marshfield until that city's airport can accommodate its DC-3 aircraft.

Conair Service

North Central's petition to the CAB points out at the time of the seven states case, from which the CAB order came, the airline was serving the Twin Cities-Milwaukee via Stevens Point route with DC-3 aircraft on four northbound and five southbound flights per day. Since the board's decision, Conair service has been initiated on all of one route segment. Airports at Clintonville and Stevens Point cannot accommodate Conairs.

The board ruled, North Central claims, that the Appleton-Marshfield additions to its routes could be served by diverting existing routes. With addition of Conair service, North Central says, only one route is applicable to the Appleton situation — the one serving Clintonville.

North Central says it could serve Appleton in one of three ways — diverting both Clintonville flights to Appleton, divert one flight to Appleton, or keep both Clintonville flights and provide one per day to Appleton.

Picks Solution

North Central claims it believes the latter solution to be the intent of the board.

North Central wants the board to let it transfer one flight from Clintonville and Stevens Point to Appleton, and to serve Appleton on another flight serving Milwaukee, Clintonville, Marshfield (which won't be served until the airport is completed), Stevens Point, Eau Claire and the Twin Cities.

North Central also has again informed the board that the CAB order is under appeal in the courts, with the airline referred to as an unwilling carrier on the routes ordered.

Practicing Up

Tulsa, Okla. — A farmer who can only write his name was convicted here of forgery.

Ervin Lautenschlager, 51, route 2, Appleton, today was fined $75 for allowing a gambling machine to operate at his town of Center tavern. He pleaded no contest before Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede.

The machine, a bowling game, was confiscated last August by state beverage tax agents.

Judge Schmiede ruled the machine could be returned to Lautenschlager if he agreed to make changes in it which would remove the gambling aspect of it. Lautenschlager agreed and the changes were made this morning.

Hit, Run Driver Strikes Boy, Flees Scene

Six-year-old Reed Meltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meltz, 235 W. Winnebago street, was struck by a hit and run driver near his home Sunday evening.

The boy received a wrist injury but did not appear to be seriously hurt, his father reported.

From witnesses' descriptions, the car was a dark model in the process of being customized. One 13-year-old witness called it a "hardley car." Witnesses said the car stopped after the accident, then sped off west on Winnebago street.

The boy had been learning to ride his bicycle and got off it, standing near a parked car, when he saw the car approach. Witnesses said the rear of the car hit the boy, tossing him against the parked car.

WSES Reports

Graduates, Students Will Find Jobs Scarce

Permanent jobs for June graduates and part-time summer jobs for students are extremely scarce, Wisconsin State Employment Service at Appleton said today.

Despite the tightness of the market, Fred Gehrke, office manager, advised young job-seekers to place their names on file with him.

Gehrke gave this breakdown of the situation: College graduates: No jobs. In other years, the WSES could expect to be asked to furnish some engineers, accountants and general business specialists, but there is a lull in demand now.

High School Grads

High school graduates: Extremely limited job opportunities, except for clerk-typists of May, 1958.

who've had commercial training. Mills are not hiring, Gehrke said, except for one or two people here and there. Part-time work for students: Little chance of employment for the student who's in the market for the first time, except in the seasonal food canning field, where there seems to be a shortage of men workers. Students who had jobs in previous years are advised to see their former employers about possibilities of rehiring.

Overall, Gehrke said, the picture is better than last year, due to an increase in activity after the recession. Placements so far this month already have exceeded those of May, 1958.

Pittsburgh Moves Into Third Place

Giants Beat Dodgers to Gain A Half-Game on Milwaukee

By The Associated Press
Orlando Cepeda and Bob Schmidt, who collected eight of the Giants' 12 hits among them, dropped the losing Los Angeles Dodgers into fourth place. Right-hander Jack Sanford scattered five hits for his sixth victory in 10 decisions. Danny McDevitt was the loser.

"Pinch hitters Danny Kravitz and 'Smoky' Burgess delivered final inning blows as the Pirates came from behind to down Cincinnati twice and extend the Red's losing streak to five. Kravitz doubled to drive in the winning run after the Pirates had tied the score on singles by Bill Mazeroski and Don Hoak, and Ted Klusowski's grounder. Burgess doubled in the tenth inning of the nightcap to drive in the winning run after Rocky Nelson tied the game for Pittsburgh in the ninth at 4-4 with a two-run homer.

The Cards used three managers to down the Cubs. Coach Harry Walker was directing the club at the finish after Manager Solly Hemus was ejected in the fifth inning and Johnny Keane, his first lieutenant, was thumped out five minutes later.

The Redbirds got 13 hits, however, and fine relief pitching by Lindsay McDaniel to sweep the 3-game series. Hal Smith, Ken Boyer, and Lee Tate each knocked in two runs.

Bryan, Flaherty Start Way Back in Field

Indianapolis Average Qualifying Time Slower Than Last Year's Record 143.445

Indianapolis — Former bump in the speedway. A. J. Foyt of Houston, Texas, 24, Phoenix and Pat Flaherty of Chicago will start away back in the field Saturday when 33 cars blast away from a starting line in the 43rd 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor speedway.

The windup of 10-mile qualifications Sunday left Bryan in the middle of the seventh row, with 18 cars to pass before he can repeat last year's $105,000 victory.

Flaherty, returning for the first time since he took the 1956 Memorial day event, qualified a shade faster than Bryan and will start in 18th place, in the sixth row.

Oil Pump Falls
Bryan nearly missed the program. His oil pump failed Friday and almost ruined the engine of the Belond Special that has won the last two 500s. Owner-builder George Salih and his crew completely rebuilt the power plant and Bryan qualified Saturday.

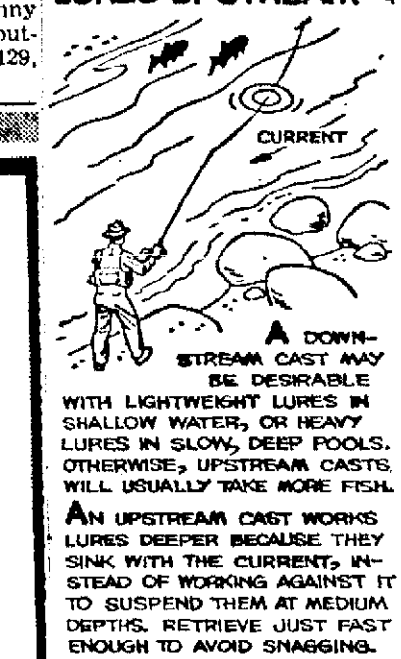

The field qualified a little slower than last year's record average of 143.445 miles an hour. This year's average in the four qualifying sessions was 143.004.

The front half of the lineup is extremely fast, led by Johnny Thomson of Boyertown, Pa., who set a 1-lap record of 146.532 on May 16.

The final qualifying session was run without a single mishap. In an accident Saturday, rookie Earl Motter of Fresno, Calif., escaped injury when his car hit the outside retaining wall. That was the sixth wreck of the month at the old track.

The lineup in its final form was loaded with old timers who know every crack and

Fielding Woes Cost Foxes 9-5 Decision

ary stepped up and drove a 3-run homer over the left field wall to put the Braves ahead to stay.

Menke Homers
With Al Stange replacing Maestri, Carlos Pascual's error and a walk put two more runners on, but further scoring was prevented.

Selinger and Menke, the $100,000 - plus bonus shortstop, added the insurance off Al Castellanos in the seventh. Selinger singled to center and Denis, "the Menace," rocked a home run to left center that traveled more than 370 feet.

Tonight, the Foxes and the Braves meet on "Ladies Night" at Goodland field, with right - hander Bert Guenther and left-hander Bob Weiden the likely respective mound starters. Tuesday night, the clubs are scheduled to wind up their series with the season's first game in the Menasha ball park.

Saturday night's finale of the Des Moines series was postponed because of wet grounds.

Jockey For Lead

Yesterday's overflow crowd watched the teams jockey for the lead in the early innings. Cedar Rapids scored in the second on Bennie Sinquefield's 2-base error and pitcher Larry Maxie's long 2-bagger to center. The Foxes got the run right back on Jim Spynalski's walk and Sinquefield's triple to left center.

The Braves came back with a singleton in the third on two singles and a sacrifice fly.

The Foxes produced a pair in their third-inning turn. Wood belted a triple to left center, and Pascual boomed his No. 4 homer of the campaign over the left field wall.

Hemmerly Shines
At that point, it looked pretty certain that the Foxes would add to the miseries of Cedar Rapids' Al Monchack who thus far has quite a bit in common with Casey Stengel, manager of another defending champion that's now in last place. But, the fatal sixth was yet to come.

The Foxes solved Cedar Rapids ace Maxie (who had copped four of his team's first five wins) for four extra base blows and a single. But, the host team could do little with southpaw reliever Hank Hemmerly. In his first appearance since being optioned to the club by Jacksonville, Hemmerly allowed two hits in four innings.

The two hits — singles by Spynalski and Sinquefield — were bunched in the eighth after one out. But Bob Mason hit into a double play, killing the team's last comeback spark.

The booster game crowd, largest of the 3-I league, broke the Foxes' record of 5,377 set by the same type of Northside Advancement promotion May 28, 1958. In both cases, the merchants' group "bought out" the park for the day and distributed 500 complimentary tickets.

Region 7 Picks Alice Contestants

UW Professor Describes Farm Strengths

Post-Crescent News Service

Algonquin — Geri Van Laanen, Green Bay, and Janice Zimmermann, Cleveland, were selected to represent Region 7 in the state Alice in Dairyland contest in June. The regional contest was held here, Saturday.

Miss Van Laanen is 18 and a freshman at Whitewater State college. Miss Zimmermann, 18, is a senior at Lincoln High school, Manitowoc.

Prof. Henry Ahlgren of the University of Wisconsin was the banquet speaker. He declared that "we are living in the most dangerous, most challenging, most exciting and most promising time the world has ever seen." He said "farm people to Madison; Miss Kathryn Hedley have some of the most fertile, Green Bay, and Algonquin difficulties they have ever experienced," but declared they also have the assets which will help solve those problems.

He listed the assets as "abundance of natural resources; adequate labor force, system of education unique in the world, system of government unmatched anywhere else in the world; religious faith and philosophy, and faith in the future, selves, friends and colleagues and in our communities."

Fifteen of the girls entered from the area participated. They were, in addition to the two finalists, Joanne Gosser and Betty Arbter, Sturgeon Bay; Laura Kiel, Whitelaw, Lois Herte, Hilbert; Carol Schutte, Sheboygan; Susan Kalk, Sheboygan Falls; Joanne Wackett, Sheboygan Falls; Frances Kohlbeck, Diane Horak and Joyce Jerabek, Algonquin; Linda Van Driesse, Luxemburg; Juliette Johnston, Cascade, and Judith Reedy, Wrightstown.

The judges were Harry Palm, the ruler of the Wisconsin state department of agriculture. He said "farm people to Madison; Miss Kathryn Hedley have some of the most fertile, Green Bay, and Algonquin difficulties they have ever experienced," but declared they also have the assets which will help solve those problems.

Saturday's Barbershop Concert brought together four men who have "woodshedded" many old songs over the years. Left to right are Mike Hammond, Gil Stammer, Don Marth and Del Bradford. Hammond, a Rhodes scholar and former Lawrence student, returned from England a few weeks ago. He, Stammer and Marth were members of the Sing-copates of Appleton, who won third place in an international contest. Stammer and Marth now sing with Escapades of Chicago. Bradford directs the Appleton chapter's chorus.

Mid-States Captivate Audience

Barbershoppers Had Everything; Hilarious, Nostalgic Tunes of Yore

BY E. L. BISELX

Post-Crescent News Editor

People who like to hear barbershop harmony but instead stayed by their TVsides surely made a mistake Saturday night.

One of the best, most entertaining, Barbershop concerts ever to come Appleton's way was presented by the Appleton SPEBSQSA chapter's four male quartets and a women's Sweet Adeline group at Appleton High school auditorium.

Everything that makes barbershopping for the devotee was there—the soft, nostalgic tear-jerkers, the melodic ballads, the novelty tunes, the solid, rousing songs of yesterday and the comedy.

The Format
The Appleton chorus, directed by Del Bradford, capably opened the show with three smooth numbers, followed by the Harn-Knights of Appleton, the Hut Four of Minneapolis, the Mid-States of Chicago, 1949 international champions, Escapades of Chicago, international finalists, Caper Cutters, Rockford, Ill., third place in the international Sweet Adeline contest, and then repeat performances by the Hut Four and the Mid-States.

The baritone and tenor of the Escapades, incidentally, are Gil Stammer and Don Marth of Appleton, formerly with the Sing-copates, who won third place internationally. They teamed with a bass and lead of a former Chicago quartet, the Fortissimos, who also won third place internationally another year.

Songs of Twenties
The women's quartet sang songs of the Roarin' Twenties and featured a bass voice unusual for a woman. The Hut Four sang their well-known Quartet from Rigoletto, an hilarious barbershop version. The audience wanted more from all the singers and applause forced the Mid-States to come back for encore after encore, until they were exhausted.

The comedy was provided principally by the Mid-States, who in addition to their ability to chord to the satisfaction of the most discriminatory critic, ic, have developed a racing, almost hysterical, laugh-a-second show that left their audience breathless and demanding more.

Two years ago, the Mid-States came to Appleton and this reviewer said they were at the end of the road after 12 years of giving barbershop lovers everything they could expect. They were listless, obviously bored and ready to quit. A few months later the quartet disbanded but barbershopping gets into the blood and after a long rest, they decided to try it again.

The "new" quartet is better than the "old" one. We don't apologize for saying the things we did two years ago. They had it coming. But the reaction of the audience Saturday night proves a quartet can come back if it regains interest and this one surely has.

This Is Barbershop
The barbershop international says this type of singing uses a "minimum of minor chords, but features barbershop (dominant) 7th chords resolved on the circle of fifths and sung in a solid manner, critically tuned to the true tone scale so as to produce a clear interlocking of the voices and a characteristic "ring" to the chord. The harmony is

Heavy Rain Expected in State Tonight

Showers and thunderstorms threatened to roll across Wisconsin today in the wake of pleasant weekend weather. No precipitation had been reported in the 24-hour period ending at daybreak today, but by mid-morning partly cloudy or cloudy skies were reported throughout the state.

Appleton had a high of 70 Sunday with an overnight low of 56. At 11 a.m. today it was 73 degrees. Weekend rainfall totaled .27 of an inch.

Grantsburg also topped the Sunday readings with a high of 75. Other maximums ranged down to 65 at Milwaukee. Those peaks were as much as 16 degrees higher than the Saturday readings.

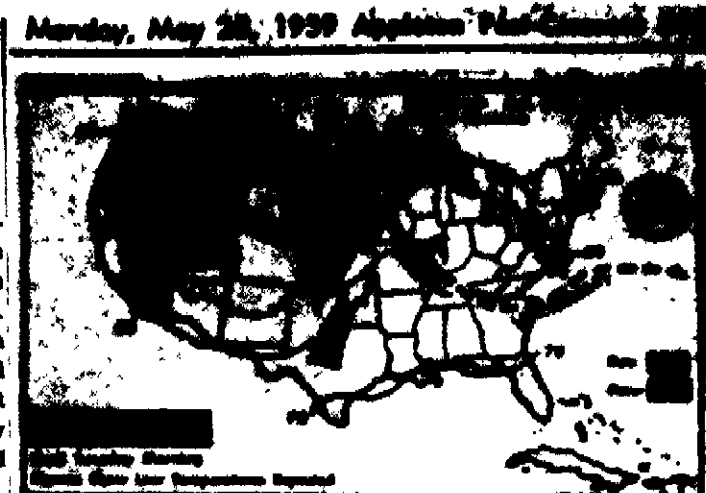

Presidio, Texas, again led the nation Sunday with a high of 98 and Phillipsburg, Pa., and Saranac Lake, N.Y., were the coldest spots early today with 27 degrees.

act harmonic ratio with the voices.

The "ring" was there Saturday night; on the show, at the afterglow and the afterglow. Not all of the time, of course, but enough so everyone knew they were listening to the best.

This is beginning to sound as if this show was the most, as the teenagers say. There have been many others that will rank with it, in a different way. The Harmony Hallers, for example, were fair country singers, and the Buffalo Bills, here three years ago, and now on Broadway in the "Music Man," were good, too. And the Schmitt Brothers, of Two Rivers, also international barbershoppers, are great crowd-chord "rings," or "that quartet really rang" or some say, "they really hit the G-string."

This is because of the intense and well-handled by Roger Leysympathetic resonances (ring) Berge, master of ceremonies, felt within the individual when the jokes were sharp. Appleton note he is singing (or ton barbershop audiences new-hearing) is "locked in" in ex-er ask for anything more.

It Will be Warmer Tonight in the southern plains and in the northeast and will continue mild elsewhere from the Mississippi valley eastward. Cooler weather is expected from the upper Mississippi valley westward to the Pacific northwest.

Expect Fall Session

Legislature May Meet Longer Than Usual

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Forecasts of expeditious legislative action and a June adjournment of the state senate and assembly, heard often earlier in the year, have become fewer.

It is now generally expected that the legislature will continue longer than the standard seven months—in spite of the general acceptance of Gov. Nelson's plan for another session late next fall.

One legislative officer with years of familiarity with law-making operations predicts a session until July 15.

Even that adjournment date, he adds, is a fairly optimistic one. The legislature may very well tarry until August, according to its present pace.

The legislature has met thus far three days every week and is now about to meet four. Although the short work week has brought some critical comment, it suits the personal convenience of most members of both parties, allowing them to devote some time to their businesses.

An unusually long session can be expected because some major legislative propositions have not yet been introduced.

Indian Bills

Among them are the bills vital to the Menominee Indians, including the creation of a separate local government structure to serve them after termination of federal controls. The Menominee bills cannot be submitted to public hearings until the end of May. Enactment of legislation requires a month, at best.

One of Gov. Nelson's major bills also has been delayed. It would set up a central department of state business administration. Because it apparently has considerable backing, the governor will press for a legislative decision before the session's end.

Woman Serves in Civil War as Man

Massillon, Ohio — In West Brookfield cemetery near here is a stone with this inscription: "Mart Owens Jenkins—served in the Civil war 1861-1865 in Co. K, 9th Penn. Vol. Cav. under the name of John Evans."

According to the story, Mary Owens, rather than be parted from the man she loved, dressed as a man, assumed the name John Evans and enlisted in the Union army. She was discovered 18 months later following the battle of Gettysburg, in which her sweetheart was killed and she wounded.

She returned to her home near Youngstown, Ohio, the story goes, and later married Abie Jenkins.

Asserts Gen. Gray Played Major Role in War Victory

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — President Eisenhower today sent greetings to those who will be present for the groundbreaking and dedication ceremonies at the National Railroad Museum here next Saturday.

In a letter to President Harold Fuller of the Museum corporation, the president said he had learned through Rep. John W. Byrnes, Green Bay, that the museum will be dedicated to the memory of "my friend and comrade-in-arms, Maj. Gen. Carl R. Gray, Jr." The late Gen. Gray of Hudson, Wis., had the original idea for a railroad museum.

"As director general of the military railway service, Gen. Gray played a major role in achieving victory in World War I," the president wrote. "Strengthened by civilian and military experience, he was able to overcome seemingly insurmountable obstacles in the way of effective transportation."

"It is fitting that this museum honor him, together with the accomplishments of all our railroaders who have helped to build and to defend our nation over the past one hundred years."

National railroad, military and governmental officials will attend the dedication ceremonies at the museum site at W. D. Cooke park in Ashwaubenon Saturday.

The assembly also gave preliminary approval to six interim committee measures granting emergency powers

Sentenced to Prison For Failing to Give His Family Support

Clyde K. Chapman, 41, who was returned here from Anson, Texas, by Sheriff Robert Heinrich's department, has been sent to the state prison at Wausau for a 1-to 2-year term on a charge of non-support.

Chapman was charged by his wife, Lorraine, with failing to support the couple's four children, aged 3 to 13. He has a record of convictions for disorderly conduct, non-support and probation violations.

Also charged with non-support, Henry Van Hout, West Allis, was released on the condition he pay $20 weekly. If he does not pay, Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmege ruled, Van Hout's $1,000 bond will be reinstated and he will stand trial on the charge.

A non-support charge against Raymond Bodway, 42, of 408 N. Appleton street, was ordered held open after Judge Schmege was told an agreement had been reached between Bodway and his wife, Clara, for support of their 13-year-old son.

Primary Plan Scuttled by Democrats

Proposal Would Have Changed State Delegate System

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Milwaukee — Defying the wishes of highest party organization officers, the state Democratic committee Sunday virtually scuttled a plan to end popular election of national political convention delegates.

The committee recommended to a sub-committee for "further study" the proposal to have the Wisconsin presidential primary law amended to have the state party organizations choose delegates.

Present Method

They are now chosen by the presidential candidates who choose to enter in the quadrennial Wisconsin preference primaries.

Committee discussion Sunday made it clear that candidate rivalries for 1960 are involved in the backing and the opposition of the plan to reduce popular control of Wisconsin delegations to both national party conventions.

Little Backing

The committee acted after several ex-Democratic members of the state legislature showed lack of enthusiasm for the change, and other politicians admitted that the Republican-controlled state senate would have the power to veto any such proposal that would affect operations of both parties.

The plan called for allowing presidential candidates to run in a Wisconsin "popularity" contest and binding the organization-selected Wisconsin party delegations to the winner of the preference election for a nominal period—such as the first ballot at the convention. After that upon a majority vote the delegates would be permitted to shift to other candidates.

The plan is backed by David Rabinovitch, Sheboygan party treasurer, Chairman Lucey, and both Wisconsin members of the Democratic national committee, Herman Jessen of Phelps and Mrs. Vel Phillips of Milwaukee.

Jessen grumbled, after Democratic legislators attacked the plan, that they should be bound to support the wishes of the party organization.

"That's out of the window," retorted Assemblyman Palant of Milwaukee, one of the leaders of the Democratic assembly majority.

Palant is committed to the candidacy of Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts, who is virtually certain to enter the Wisconsin primary next spring, and protested that the change in the selection of delegates would discourage such candidates here.

"Can you see a candidate coming here to spend $100,000 to $200,000 when he can't win anything? We'll have a delegation that will switch to the guy who bought them the best of hotel room," said the legislator.

Articles left on an electric stove ignited causing an estimated $1,500 fire damage Sunday at 11 a.m. Sunday in the kitchen of the Wayne A. Holcomb family, 728 W. Hawes avenue.

Fire Chief Neumann said the fire destroyed the articles on the stove, dishes and plastics, and some kitchen furniture as well as burning the ceiling and shelves.

The fire ate through part of the ceiling into an attic, the chief said.

About two hours earlier, firemen used chemicals to extinguish burning wires in an automobile of Clifford Rosenberg, 1030 W. Commercial street. The car was at State and Commercial streets when down, 12-15-54; stages 9.00-11.00; boars 8.00-9.00.

Waupaca Man Gets Patent for New Garage Door Control

Clark A. Moore, Waupaca, has received a patent for control mechanism and circuit for garage doors.

The patent concerns improvements in electrically operated garage doors of vertical movement. In the operation of such doors, there is the possibility of injury if a person is struck by the descending door.

Moore devised a control mechanism which provides an electrical control arrangement and circuit which energizes a relay if the door strikes an obstruction. The obstruction may be the stop member which limits the distance of travel of the door or it may be a person who is in the path of the moving door.

Moore assigned the patent to A. E. Moore Company, Inc., Waupaca.
